WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, May, 14, 1894
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Never within the memory of the habitue of the Capitol has the majority of the Senate allowed itself to be nagged by the minority as the republicans have nagged the democrats since those four hundred amendments to the tariff bill were presented to the Senate. Although Senator Brice claims that 43 democratic Senators are pledged to support the tariff bill after those amendments are adopted not a single democrat has had the courage to defend the amenements. The nearest any one of them came to it was when Senator Harris said: "The democratic party believes in a tariff for revenue with such incidental protection as revenue duties afford," but he had not a word to say when Senator Aldrich asked him what then because of the declaration of the last democratic National platform, that protection was a fraud and was unconstitutional. The democratic Senators are very much at sea, and none of them make any serious attempt to hide it, while Mr. Cleveland has gone fishing to hide his disgust. The republican Senators will caucus to-night to talk over their future course on the amendments.

Coxey's nondescripts were compelled by the health authorities to leave the pest hole in which they had been encamped, and being unable to secure any other place in Washington they are now camped in Maryland, five miles from town. The Marylanders do not relish their presence even a little bit and threats are being openly made of compelling them to move on. Sufficient rations to feed the men is getting to be a serious problem with Coxey; he has got about all from Washington that he will get, and the Maryland people say they don't intend to encourage their stay by helping to feed them. The argument for a new trial for Coxey, Browne and Jones, convicted of violating the law for the protection of the Capitol building and grounds, will be heard to-morrow It is regarded as certain that a new trial will be refused them.

Senator Hill, of N. Y., doesn't mince words in expressing his opinion of tariff bill number 4. He said: "Let the odium of its passage or praise for its defeat rest upon the shoulders of Senator Gorman, for aught I care. One thing is certain, the tariff bill now before the Senate should never become a law. There is no justice in it, and it is simply subterfuge and a make shift."

Hon. John Patton, Jr., the new Senator from Michigan, has made a very favorable impression upon his colleagues and the public. Although he had had no actual legislative experience previous to his appointment as the successor of the late Senator Stockridge his wide general knowledge and his grasp upon political affairs have made him feel at home in the Senate, where he will certainly make himself heard later on.

It may not be entirely just to charge Representative McGann, chairman of the House committee on Labor, who offered the resolution, and a majority of the committee who voted to favorably report the resolution providing for the appointment of a joint Congressional committee to investigate the industrial depression, with demagogueism; but if that resolution, following as it did the hearing granted Coxey by the Labor committee, does not bear the genuine earmarks of demagoguery it has some excellent imitations of them. It directs the appointment of a committee of seven—three Senators and four Representatives—"to investigate and report to Congress within 30 days the cause of the industrial depression responsible for so much distress throughout the country and what legislation will preserve industrial and financial conditions which will offer speedy, permanent and lucrative employment to the citizens of the United States." Think of the enormity of the task imposed and of the time given—30 days—within which it must be done, and you will see the point.

The House Judiciary committee, or rather the democratic majority of that committee, has had another attack of states right fever, a disease often scotched, but never entirely killed, and the result was the ordering of a favorable report on a bill introduced by Representative De-Armond, of Mo., providing that no judge of a United States court shall punish any citizen or officer for being in contempt for refusing to levy a tax or collect a tax for the payment of any bond issued by the municipality, county, or state, where the levying of such tax or collection is contrary to the laws of the state. This bill if it becomes a law, will make the laws of a state paramount to those of the United States, which would be in accordance with the doctrine taught by southern democrats from Calhoun down to the present day, a doctrine which four years of the bloodiest war in history should have for ever ended, but which somehow it did not.

Honor the Dead.

For years past complaints have been frequently made in reference to flowers and shrubbery being stolen from graves in the cemeteries. Those who place the flowers there are mostly gentle hearted ones who cultivate the refined sentiments and feeling. That one is almost an anomaly in the human family who can love a flower and at the same time rob a grave of its "sweet scented pictures" drawn by the divine artist, and he is almost unworthy a decent burial who maliciously removes these loving tributes by which surviving friends seek to console their broken spirits.

Such ill disposed persons who cannot be deterred from the commission of such crimes by an appeal to the common instincts of human nature should be made acquainted with some of the various enactments found in laws incorporating cemetery companies, and in general laws having for an object the repression of wanton injury to cemeteries, or to private inclosures in the same.

The act of May 19, 1879, punishes by fine or imprisonment any wilful injury to flowers or shrubbery growing in a cemetery or graveyard. Any person who wantonly or maliciously does so "Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction of either of the said offences, be sentenced to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding a year or pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both or either, at the discretion of the court."

This act authorizes cemetery companies to appoint watchmen, who, together with all superintendents, gardners and agents stationed on the cemetery grounds, upon taking an oath of office similar to that required of constables shall exercise all the powers of police officers within the adjacent said grounds, in the arrest of persons engaged in violating the laws for the protection of cemeteries.

The Local Paper.

SPEAKING of the value of the "local paper" as an advertising medium, Charles Auston Bates, in Trade Magazine, Philadelphia says: There is no printed thing which is so close to the heart of the community as the local papers. The pulse of local life beats in its every issue. An epitome of the world's news glows in its bright pages, and the business news of the local stores should be in it, too; should be there, not "to help the paper along;" not because "the editor is a nice fellow, and we want to encourage him;" not for any reason except the one great, shrewd business reason—that it will pay. If a merchant will take care of his space, change his copy, keep it fresh and put interesting matter in it, it will be read as assiduously and as regularly as the spiciest bit of gossip. As it gets readers so will the dealers get customers. Aggressiveness and confidence are essential in advertising. Timid men do not succeed. It's the fellow who goes straight ahead, full of self confidence, forceful, bound to make his point; that's the man whose business thrives and flourishes.

Let his advertisement breathe of honesty and truth. Let every statement be exactly a fact—no more, no less—but rather let him understate the goodness of his wares than overstate them. Above all put in the "ads."

Let the merchat wake up, and the publisher will meet thrm more than half way. It is wonderful how much good a little confidence and enthusiasm will do. I do not care what town it is, intelligent advertising in the local paper will pay.

The Glad Summer Season.

How beautiful the weather! The sun is quite warm, and everything seems animated by its genial rays. The green fields stretch out as far as the eye can reach; the trees are clothed with rich foliage; sweet flowers scent the air; the lambs gambol upon hills; the low bellowing of the ox is heard in the distance, and mankind desire shady retreats! How changed is nature since a few months ago. Where beautiful and sweet scented plants now flourish, cold and dreary winter then howled mornful requiums around their naked trunks. The fields presented one vast sheet of snow, and barrenness reigned supreme. Now all is changed.

How delightful a walk in the country these mornings, before the sun sheds its hot rays upon the earth. The cool morning breeze, the beautiful scenery and the fragrant air, animate man with almost a new being, and prepares his mind and body to more easily bear the burdens of the day. Every one should rise early. It will not only make you feel in a brighter mood during the day but also adds to your health. If you are in the habit of spending these beautiful mornings lying in bed in fitful slumbers, remember you are losing the best part of the day.

ROBERT P. DECHERT DEAD.

The Life of a Noted Soldier and Politician Closed.

Philadelphia, May 13.—After a painful illness that began with an affection of the liver in November last, General Robert Porter Dechert became unconscious on Friday, and expired yesterday at 1.12 p. m., at the residence of his brother, Henry M. Dechert, No. 3914 Walnut street.

Few Pennsylvania military men were better known to the present generation than was General Dechert. He was a son of Elijah Dechert, once a prominent lawyer, and was born at Reading, Pa., on August 16, 1842.

Having been a most promising law student in the office of his brother, Henry M. Dechert, of this city, while quite young Robert P. Dechert enlisted when the war of the rebellion broke out, in the Twenty-ninth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, and was mustered in when 19 years old, in June, 1861. In the following January he was commissioned first lieutenant, became captain in 1863 and major in November of 1864. He was breveted lieutenant colonel on March 13, 1865, for distinguishing services during the war. He participated in the battles and retreats in the Shenandoah valley, in the disastrous Virginia campaign; was actively engaged on the fields of Antietam, Chancellorsville and Gettysburg and in Sherman's march to the sea.

Resuming his studies of law after the war, General Dechert (then colonel) was admitted to the Philadelphia bar in 1867. He was a Democrat, and his first appearance as a candidate for office was as the Democratic nominee for select council in the Twenty-seventh ward. In 1868 he materially aided in securing the election of Furman Sheppard as district attorney of Philadelphia, who, in recognition of Colonel Dechert's services, made him assistant district attorney.

As a state senator, to which position General Dechert was elected in 1870 as the successor of Senator Watts, Republican, General Dechert had originated and had enacted the law enabling criminals to testify in their own behalf. He was nominated for auditor General in 1880, when General Hancock was running for the presidency, but was defeated. In 1884 General Dechert was elected county controller of Philadelphia by a majority of 15,950 over John J. Ridgeway, although the vote for president then cast in that city gave Blaine a plurality of 29,951. He was re-elected in 1887 by a plurality of 9,000 over Andrew J. Maloney, Republican, George G. Pierie, the Republican candidate for recorder of deeds, receiving at the same election a plurality of 22,759, and was a model controller.

He Loved Too Well.

Findlay, O., May 13.—A strange suicide occurred here today and two more were scheduled for the same time, but the suicides under contract to die weakened after the first one had killed himself. Paul Ewing, 15 years old, a son of Dr. J. M. Ewing one of the leading physicians of the city, was in love with a girl school mate, and was devoted in his attentions. The girl's parents objected, chiefly on account of the tender ages of the children. Finally they forbade the boy to call at the house any more, and admonished the daughter not to continue their clandestine meetings elsewhere.

Paul had two comrades, boys of his own age, to whom he confided his troubles. The other boys both confessed to having troubles of the same sort and general condition on hand, and the trio made a solemn compact to end their agonies of forbidden love, and at the same time administer a rebuke to their unfeeling elders by committing suicide. They were to act at the same time, but were not to be together when they committed suicide. At the designated time young Ewing swallowed forty grains of morphine, and was so much in earnest that he was not discovered until it was too late to save his life.

The other two boys, either less in love with their girls or more in love with their life, failed to take the poisons they had secured for the purpose, and Paul Ewing went into eternity alone. When his death was announced the other two boys were so broken up over it that it is feared they will yet kill themselves, and in consequence they are both carefully guarded.

The Benzine Went Up.

Bradford, Pa., May 13.—Several hundred people had a narrow escape from a terrible death here to-day. In the course of a fire in the barrel house at the Emery Manufacturing company's refinery, a tank of benzine, on a siding near the barrel house, exploded. The cap of the tank was blown 300 feet in the air, and a large volume of flame went with it. A strong westerly wind blowing kept the fire in the air. A panic ensued among the spectators who were watching the fire and they fled in all directions. Thirty people were burned about the face and hands and their hair singed. John Crosby, an employee of the refinery, is the only one severely burned. Three loaded tank cars were also destroyed. Total loss, $5,000.

He Collected the Bill.

When I was a youngster of 17," said a successful business man, "I got a job as a collector with a man who was as strict a martinet as I ever saw. He insisted on everything being done just as he said, and there were times when life was verily a burden, but I stuck to him for six months then we had a difference. It was this way: One day he called me up and handed me a bill on a man I knew. He told me to take it around and collect it.

"'Its one of our standbys,' he said, and every collector I sent to him reported him absent or not findable or something. Now, you go and don't come back here until you see him.'

"'Do you mean that?' I asked, as two or three of the clerks looked up.

'"You know me,' was all he said in reply, and I went out after my man.

"He wasn't at home, the people said, and wouldn't be for six weeks. So I stuck the bill in my pocket and went off up the country for a visit.

The old man sent after me half a dozen times, but my folks could not tell I was out of town, and I never paid any attention to a letter I got from the boss, but went on enjoying myself. Then I came back and had a visit with some other friends, and at the end of six weeks I called on my man again with the bill. I found him at home and told him what I had done, and he paralyzed me by paying the bill with interest. Two hours later I stepped into the boss' office.

"'There,' I said, before he had time to gather his wits, is the amount of your bill and interest. He was out of town for six weeks, and I couldn't see him before. You told me not to come back until I did see him, and I was obeying your instructions. I had a rattling good time and the house owes me six weeks salary."

The old man gasped, got blue in the face and I thought he was going to explode, but he didn't. He gulped it all down and stuck out his hand.

"'Young man,' he said, 'you ought to have been a soldier. I am going to put you in charge of the collection department and double your salary.' And,' concluded the merchant, "When I was 35 I was a partner."

The Coming Crops.

Philadelphia Star. The reports from the grain-growing districts of the country are very favorable, indicating a pretty nearly average crop. If such proves to be the case there will be an enormous surplus unless the long threatened general war in Europe should occur. What will be done with this constantly increasing surplus is a perplexing question. Today farmers in many parts of the country are feeding their stock on wheat, finding it cheaper provender than corn. This is an unprecedented state of things. It indicates very clearly the fact that our agricultural products are largely in excess of any possible home demand, and that unless a market is found elsewhere for the leading cereals we shall have such an accumulation of them as will render it impossible with present storage accommodation to find place for them.

Talmage's Tabernacle Burned.

New York, May 13—Rev. Dr. Talmage's new tabernacle, at the corner of Clinton and Green avenues, Brooklyn, was burned at noon to-day. The Hotel Regent, adjoining, and several dwelling houses in the vicinity were also destroyed. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. This is the third time Dr. Talmage has lost his church by fire. He was in the church when the fire started, surrounded by a number of his congregation, but all escaped. He was moved to tears as he witnessed the destruction of the beautiful edifice. Four firemen were injured during the fire, not fatally, however, and there was great excitement and scenes of panic as the fire progressed.

Death of Jacob Brickley.

Mr. Jacob Brickley, aged 87 years, one of the best known and most esteemed residents of Curtin township, died very suddenly at his home in Romola on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Brickley was in good health up to noon. After he had eaten dinner he became ill, but thought it nothing serious, but by four o'clock he was dead.

The funeral will occur Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from his late home, and interment will be made in the cemetery at Romola.

CULMINATION OF A SCANDAL.

A Medical Lothario and an Injured Husband Indulge in a Duel on a Public Thoroughfare.

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 13—The shooting on Friday night of Charles Kenyon by Dr. J. N. Applewhite was the culmination of a long time scandal. Applewhite had been intimate with Mrs. Kenyon, and, that he might visit her more easily, induced her husband to join a secret society, which brought him to Corvallis one night in the week. The facts came out and the guilty pair fled to San Francisco. Upon their return they were arrested. Subsequently the woman repented and was forgiven. Since then the doctor has repeatedly suggested another elopement but without success.

On Friday while the Kenyons were driving to their home, Applewhite fired from behind a tree, striking Kenyon. He then pulled the woman from the carriage and held her in front of him. When Kenyon recovered himself he returned the fire, and a fusilade was kept up until the woman cried, "I am shot." Kenyon drove off to get help, and the doctor and infatuated woman disappeared.

At 9.30 o'clock yesterday morning, side by side in a brushy ravine, half a mile from the scene of yesterday's shooting, Mrs. Kenyon and Dr. Applewhite were found. The woman was dead from the effects of a twenty grain dose of morphine which Applewhite had given her, and the man was suffering from the effects of the same drug, which he had taken himself. He had also cut two gashes in his neck and several across his wrists with a pocket knife in the attempt to open an artery. He was conscious and talked freely. He said he intended to kill Kenyon, but meant no harm to Mrs. Kenyon. He attempted to use his revolver when the officers approached, but was prevented. All three have been brought to the city. Applewhite will recover. Kenyon's injuries are not serious.

Applewhite was insanely jealous of Mrs. Kenyon. He was also a morphine fiend, which explains why the drug did not kill him.

Some Railroad Whys!

Why do not the new passenger cars on the Pennsylvania and other lines have mirrors in them? They would be a great convenience to women, and are needed rather more by women in the ordinary cars than in the Pullmans where mirrors are retained.

Why are not seats provided next the window with a place where rubbers can be put, instead of being left to kick around under the seat and get out of reach?

Why cannot the back of the next seat have a little catch or pocket in which a passenger can put his ticket for the conductor to see and take up, as is provided in many European passenger compartments?

Why are not the news stands in the Broad and Twelfth Streets Stations required to keep papers, envelopes and stamps? A single box of paper and envelopes, costing a few cents, would be enough, and it would often be a great convenience for a passenger to be able to write a note at the station without having to walk to the nearest retailer's for paper an envelopes.

These are small conveniences and their need might never occur to railroad managers who always ride in palace cars; but for the plain, ordinary passenger who has to pay his way, small changes like these mean a good deal.

They Prepared Them.

Monday's High School rhetoricals were somewhat shortened by the non-appearance of the members of the adyanced class. The boys gave as the reason that they were unprepared and were given until Tuesday morning to have their essays ready. By working all night the following were prepared and read their productions before the regular work began:

Essay, "Fashion," William Runkle.
Essay, "Hawaii," John Keichline.
Essay, "Congress," Paul Fortney.
Essay, "Travel," Morris Kelley.
Essry, "Light Houses," Morris Kelley.

All the young men displayed considerable thought and study by the well developed discussions on their different subjects and the very excellent manner in which they were rendered.

The Gettysburg electric trolley finds itself assailed fore and aft because of its invasion, disturbance and desecration of the battlefield. The application of the Gettysburg Battlefield Commission for a jury of viewers to condemn the portion of the trolley route through the famous Wheat Field and the Valley of Death will be heard this week in the United States Circuit Court. Another court proceeding brought by the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association asking that the trolley company be enjoined from using the Round Top branch of the Reading Railway was argued last Saturday before the Adams County Court. If the National Commission succeeds, as it doubtless will in procuring the condemnation of the land which it desires to set apart and mark thereon the positions of the different commands, there will be no occasion for further proceedings, as that will put a stop to the trolley nuisance. Hereafter a new line may be constructed for the convenience of visitors which shall not bestride all the leading positions and prevent by its presence a satisfactory realization of the conditions under which this great battle was fought.

MINES AND OPERATORS.

The Cleveland Convention Did Not Accomplish Much Yesterday.

Cleveland, O., May 15.—The first session of the conference of the coal operators with the delegates of the United Mine Workers was held this afternoon. J. Z. Zerbe, of Cleveland, an operator in both Ohio and Pennsylvania, was made chairman. Patrick McBryde, secretary of the United Mine Workers, was elected secretary.

When the ten delegates appointed at the meeting of Pennsylvania operators, held in Pittsburg last Friday, presented their credentials they submitted a copy of the resolutions adopted at the meeting by a vote of 94 to 36, stating that the operators comprising the convention did not propose to be bound by any action taken at the Cleveland conference.

The committee on credentials refused to receive the delegates upon such terms and decided that they must come into the conference as individuals, if at all. The operators of Indiana had a clause in their credentials which stated that they could not be bound by the action of the conference unless it was accepted by the operators of Central and Southern Illinois. The provision was not objected to by the committee. When the committee reported the resolutions of the Pennsylvania operators it was sent to the secretary and read to the convention. President McBride, of the mine workers, made a speech in which he scored the operators for seeking admission to the conference on such terms as an insult to the entire body.

The report of the committee was adopted, and of the ten men who were barred out two accepted the conditions imposed and entered the convention as individuals As constituted after the report of the committee on credentials the convention embraced 195 miners and 150 operators. The latter represented 148 operators in Ohio, seventy-five in Pennsylvania, two in West Virginia, twelve in Indiana, four in Tennessee and Alabama, four in Kentucky and one in Colorado. Not a single operator was present from Illinois nor was that district represented in any manner. An adjournment was then taken until to-morrow.

Resolutions of Respect.

At the last meeting of Gregg Post the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, It has pleased an all wise Providence to again visit our Post with death, and take from our midst comrade Henry Robb. Therefore

Resolved, That in his death we have lost an honorable, brave and patriotic soldier and a faithful member of our Post.

Resolved, That he was also a good citizen highly respected in the community in which he lived, possessing a kind and generous heart.

Resolved, That his family have lost a kind and faithful husband and father and that we most heartily condole with them in their sad bereavement.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on the minutes of the Post and a copy thereof be forwarded to the county papers and to the family of our deceased comrade.

Record Breaking.

The report of the proceedings of the Grand Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, a book of 282 pages, was printed, bound and delivered to Grand Recorder Barnes in 15 hours after the session closed. The last form was on press 11½ hours after receiving the last of the copy. Six of the first copies printed were in the hands of Mr. Barnes 13 hours after the session closed. The work was done in the George Lasher printing house of Philadelphia.

ASSAULTED BY A LUNATIC.

An Ex-Sheriff Nearly Killed by a Crazy Man.

Watertown, N. Y., May 11.—While alone in his pleasant home at Sandy Creek about 8.30 last evening Dr. J. Lyman Bulkley, ex-sheriff of Oswego county, and one of the most prominent citizens of the place, was visited by a lunatic named Gaylord Williams, who was laboring under the hallucination that the physician had maltreated him, and almost without a moment's notice, the crazy man had pulled a revolver and fired two shots to kill the physician. One took effect in the arm, the other flew wide of its mark and found lodgment in the wall. Williams then put away his revolver and proceeded to make a murderous assault on Dr. Bulkley with a knife. The doctor had realized his predicament and knew he was at the mercy of a mad man. He engaged in a struggle with Williams for his life, and the two men finally reached the lawn in front of the physician's home. During the desperate struggle Williams plunged the blade of a large knife into the physician's groin and stabbed him in the back and cut ugly gashes in his head. In attempting to wrest the knife from the mad man's grasp, Dr. Bulkley cut his hand badly and was almost exhausted from exertion and loss of blood when Williams ran away. Dr. Bulkley now lies in a critical condition, and Williams, the mad man, is a corpse and suicide, having ended his existence by sending a bullet through his brain. His lifeless body was found in the field in the rear of Dr. Bulkley's house this morning. It is said Williams was released from the Ogdensburg insane asylum yesterday.

Heroic, But Cowardly.

A man can take his life in his hands, go boldly into the trackless prairie to meet a herd of savage buffalo, or he can traverse the horrors of an African jungle without a shudder in his body, but he cannot enter a fancy wool shop to match a special hue without breaking into violent perspiration and finally rush away without fulfilling his task.

A man can suffer the amputation of a limb in a heroic manner, but he cannot endure a mustard plaster on his chest without shrieking aloud for mercy.

A man can bear the deprivation of his wealth with the calmness of a stoic, but he cannot lose his collar stud on the bedroom floor without a violent outburst of temper.

A man can smile grimly under the torture of a rack, but he cannot tread on a tack with his bare feet without a bitter howl.

A man can walk forty miles a day and arrive fresh and bright at the end of his journey, but he cannot nurse a baby half an hour without complaining that he is utterly worn out.

A man can calculate to the uttermost farthing the cost of the Suez canal, but he cannot estimate the cost of a woman's bonnet without egregious errors.

A man can possess the physical strength of a Samson, but he cannot help to take down the pictures for the spring cleaning without feeling completely exhausted with his labors.

A man can suffer death at the stake with the dignity of a martyr, but he cannot chase after his hat in a public road without looking ridiculous.

A man will go through fire and water to win the girl of his heart, but he will not allow her to see him with a four days growth on his chin.

No Compromise.

Columbus, O., May 11—President McBride is at home again from Chicago and says the object of his visit to that city was to confer with a number of Illinois operators on the subject of the Cleveland conference. He states there will be a large number of operators at the Cleveland meeting from nearly all the coal districts of the county, but it does not appear probable that the representation will be a full one. He is firmly convinced that the miners will, at their meeting in Cleveland, vote against accepting any thing in the shape of a compromise of their demands, on the other hand, will agree to remain on a strike two months longer, if necessary, to carry their point.

Robert Watchorn of Pennsylvania is in the city and states that the miners of that state will stay but till Cnristmas rather than agree to a compromise.

Tom Davis telegraphs from Piedmont, W. Va., that has organized 1,400 miners along the line of the West Virginia Central railroad.

W. B. Wilson telegraphs from Lonaconing, Md., that 25,000 miners of that state are now out.

President McBride will leave to-morrow for his home at Massillon, O., and will go from there direct to Cleveland Sunday night to attend the miners' convention Monday.

THE South Carolinians who did not want to purchase whisky of a State dispensary, and who succeeded in getting the dispensary law declared unconstitutional are far from happy. The same Supreme Court that decided the dispensary law contrary to the State Constitution has decided the State is under a practical prohibitory law, as no one is vested with the power to grant licenses, and to sell without a license is illegal. If Governor Tillman does not call the Legislature together and secure the passage of a law giving some one the power to grant licenses the people of South Carolina are likely to realize in their own sad experience the truth of the historic remark of the Governor of North Carolina to the Governor of South Carolina when he said: "It's a long time between drinks.

BRINGING COAL FROM ABROAD.

The Berwind-White Company Importing Thousands of Tons.

New York, May 11.—The big coal companies and the big coal consumers in this city and the immediate neighborhood are making great efforts and resorting to radical remedies to offset the scarcity of coal which is beginning to make itself felt as a result of the big coal strike.

Already the stock of soft coal has begun to run low, and in order to prevent its becoming actually short of requirements large importations are being made from Europe and Nova Scotia.

The Berwind-White Coal Company, which is one of the largest concerns in the East, and which has an especally big business in supplies for spring, has ordered many thousands of tons of Welsh soft coal and Nova Scotia coal. Fifteen thousand tons of the former are on direct order from Cardiff. Already a large part of the consignment is on the way now, and the remainder is loaded and ready for immediate shipment, and this, too, is practically now in transit.

All steamships coming and to come from the other side will, as far as possible, carry sufficient coal for use on both the outward and homeward voyages. On many steamers not ordinarily of double coal capacity the space will be so disposed as to admit of carrying a double supply.

REV. Dr. Haldeman, a Baptish divine of New York, has incurred the displeasure of the feminine members of his flock, as well as a great many outside of his church circle, by declaring that woman suffrage would reverse the work of ages. He declares that it would build legislation on a basis as brittle as clay, and add an inherent weakness for which no moral force or feminine culture could compensate. Inasmuch as the women are of a contrary opinion it is not strange that Mr. Haldeman has lost his popularity among the fair sex.

The top notch of enterprise and liberality has been reached by The Pittsburgh Times, which announces that every one of its sixty thousand subscribers, and all who will become regular readers before Saturday, May 12th, will be presented with the First Part of the most remarkable Art Portfolio of the year. The work referred to is "Frank Leslie's Scenes and Portraits of the Civil War," which will furnish a complete and authentic history of the conflict between the States in pictures drawn on the spot and in descriptive prose. The First Part will be delivered free to all readers of The Pittsburg Times in exchange for the first six coupons, and the other twenty-nine parts will be furnished in exchange for six coupons clipped from The Times and ten cents for each part.

There will be thirty parts, tweny six of which will be devoted to illustrations and four to reading matter. Each of the first twenty-six parts will contain sixteen illustrations, making a total of four hundred and sixteen in the complete volume. Short descriptions will accompany the pictures in each part. The pictures were made on the scene of battle by the most famous artist of the time, and can therefore be relied upon as absolutely accurate. The work will be a supplement to every written history, portraying as it does the striking incidents of battle, and giving the likeness of the leaders whose names were on every lip in the days of strife. Here the veterans will find the past recalled, and here the young may gain inspiration to emulate their patriotism and devotion.

The Pittsburg Times deserves thanks for placing this splendid history within the reach of the people at nominal cost, and its proposed free distribution of the First Part to all its readers is generosity without a parallel. If you are not a reader of The Times, order it from your news agent at once. If there is no agent for The Times in your locality, write to The Times, Pittsburgh, Pa., for terms to clubs and agents.

CONVICTING THE COUNTERFEITERS.

Melvin A. Smith and Charles D. Smith Were Both Found Guilty.

The sessions of the United States district court on Thursday were devoted to the trail of counterfeiters. They are all of the Blair and Clearfield county gang, arrested last Spring by secret service detectives. Five of them were convicted and another is still on trial.

Melvin A. Smith, an old man, of Altoona, at whose home most of the counterfeiters' tools were found, was defended by Major E. A. Montooth. He would not go into a defense because he wanted to save his son, Charles D. Smith. After Detective Daniel McSweeny was examined Majar Montooth announced that the defense would not offer no evidence, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Then the younger Smith was tried. A bad dollar was found in his pocket when he was arrested, and there was other damaging evidence against him. Major Montooth made a strong defense, but the jury found Smith guilty.

John Steigers, of Clearfield county, was also convicted. He said he had been acting as a detective for S. J. Anderson, of Harrisburg, to run down the counterfeiters, but the jury did not believe him. Henry McFarland, also of Clearfield county was found guilty, too.

Louis C. Statler, of Altoona is on trial on the same charge. He had two bogus dollars and three bad nickels in his pocket when arrested. Counterfeiting tools were also found in his house.

To My Friends.

As you are well aware that I would not recommend that which I did not believe to be good, I desire to say to all who need a good reliable medicine, that I believe one bottle of Sulphur Bitters will do you more good than any other remedy I ever saw.—Rev. Cephas Soule.

Dr. Krauskopf's Lecture.

One of the largest audiences that ever assembled in Garman's opera house filled that building on Wednesday evening to hear the lecture of the famous reformer and orator, the distinguished Rabbi, the Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf, of Philadelphia. The stage was beautifully arranged and was occupied by Gen. Hastings, Rev. J. A. Woodcock, C. M. Bower, Esq., John G. Love, Esq., Emil Joseph, W. C. Heinle, Frank Montgomery, D. F. Fortney, Samuel Lewin, Col. William Shortlidge, P. B. Crider, Dr. Hayes, F. H. Thomas, Hammon Sechler, Sigmund Joseph, Herman Holtz and the orator. The opera house orchestra played a most delightful overture after which General Hastings, in his usual happy and hearty way, very cleverly introduced the speaker.

Dr. Krauskopf lectured, as was announced, on the subject "Only a Jew." His peroration was based on an incident somewhat trivial, yet none the less important, which transpired in Philadelphia last Christmas. The reverend gentleman well verified his reputation as an orator in his discourse Wednesday night, as it was one of the most able, profound and interesting lectures ever delivered in Bellefonte. His illustration of a Jew was a remarkable word painting and served to show that disciple of religious faith in a far different light than that in which he is viewed by the public in general.

After the lecture a reception in honor of the distinguished speaker was held at the residence of General Hastings. Dr. Krauskopf was accompanied to Bellefonte by Mr. Solomon Blumenthal, of Broad Street temple, Philadelphia.

THE best investment in real estate is to keep buildings well painted. Paint protects the house and saves repairs. You sometimes want to sell—many a good house has remained unsold for want of paint. The rule should be, though, "the best paint or none." That means

Strictly Pure White Lead

You cannot afford to use cheap paints. To be sure of getting Strictly Pure White Lead, look at the brand; any of these are safe:

"Armstrong & McKelvy,"
"Beymer-Bauman,"
"Davis-Chambers,"
"Fahnestock."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

These colors are sold in one-pound cans, each can being sufficient to tint 25 pounds of Strictly Pure White Lead he desired shade; they are in no sense ready-mixed paints, but a combination of perfectly pure colors in the handiest form to tint Strictly Pure White Lead.

A good many thousand dollars have been saved property-owners by having our book on painting and color-card. Send us a postal card and get both free.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE.

When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

DELAWARE'S PRIMARIES.

The Indications Are That Judge Clayton Will Secure a Renomination—A Hot Fight Waged.

Media, Pa., May 9.—The hot fight that has been waged here between the two factions of the Republican party in Delaware county, with Judge Thomas Clayton leading one wing and Captain Isaac Johnson and ex-Collector of the Port of Philadelphia Thomas V. Cooper the other, terminated at the primaries to-day. The polls did not close until 8 o'clock to-night, and the returns from the country districts are slow in coming in, but indications point to the defeat of Johnson and the success of Judge Clayton in his battle for re-election as judge.

Congressman Jack Robinson, who has stood neutral in the fight, says that Clayton will go into the convention with 150 delegates—thirty more than he needs for a nomination. Cooper will not yet concede the defeat of Johnson and bases his hopes upon the returns from the country districts, which have not yet been heard from, and where Johnson's greatest strength lays. Johnson carried all three districts of Media by a vote of more than three to one against Clayton. Clayton gets most of the delegates from Chester and South Chester, and the delegates from the smaller towns seem to be about equally divided.

The fight between Prothonotary Mathues and ex-Mayor Coates, of Chester, for the office of prothonotary, is very close with Mathues a little in the lead. For assembly only meagre returns have been received, but the indications point to the renomination of Ward R. Bliss, Thomas H. Garvin and George E. Reyburn. Up to midnight no returns have been received for delegates to the state convention.

If You Wish

To enjoy good health, and prevent the seeds of disease from ripening in your system, you should use the best medicine in world, Sulphur Bitters, which will prevent your system from being all run down by making it strong and vigorous.—Rev. W. R. Snow.

Education and Premature Decay.

The shortness of life among the highly educated natives has been attracting a considerable amount of attention in India. There is a general tendency to put it down merely to their neglecting physical exercise for their studies. But that is not enough. Scotch students do the same, but their physique is not impaired. The Hindoo, however, in some respects presents a marked contrast to the Briton. Up to the age of nineteen, he is precocious, and shows himself on all points intellectually in advance of Englishmen at the same age. After twenty however, the advantage disappears, and the final test of the civil service examination, according to the present arrangement of age limits, comes at a time when, in the native, relative decadence has taken the place of marked superiority. Longevity and precocity cannot go together, and there is no doubt that the men in India, whose lives are most valuable to the community, die in the period of seed time and promise. Another potent cause is the early marriage of boy students. Many marry before they take their university degrees, and, if intellectual parents be so young, it is not likely that the intellectual class of the succeeding generation will be physically strong.—[W. H. WILKINS, in the Humanitarian.

THE formal trial and conviction of Coxey Browne and Jones, charged with the offense of carrying a banner in the Capitol grounds and trampling upon the grass, is a ridiculous sequel to a ridiculous demonstration, and the police authorities of the District of Columbia will do wisely now to let these fakirs alone. The law has been sufficiently vindicated and any further proceedings will only serve to advertise a show that has already ceased to draw. The trial was conducted with unimpeachable fairness, the acquittal of Christopher Columbus Jones of the charge of trespassing on the grass of which the others were convicted serving to emphasize the impartiality of the jury. This is all right. It shows that the police regulations of the capitol are adequate for the preservation of public order, and beyond this it would be foolish to go. The public is altogether tired of Coxey and his gang. They have been shown to be entirely harmless and if let alone they will soon drop out of sight.

Special Services at Unionville.

Instead of the regular services on Sabbath, May 20th, a special service of addresses and songs and Sabbath school reorganization will be held in the Presbyterian church at Unionville, at 3 o'clock p. m. Some of the best speakers and singers of Bellefonte and Milesburg have promised to be present.

Will Meet In Huntingdon.

The Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Review says: The thirtieth annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association will meet in Huntingdon Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday, October 9, 10 and 11. We have not since 1889 met in one of the central cities of the state, but have been in the more extreme east or west; so that, while we have come nearer to certain communities each time, the workers at the other end of the state have been largely debarred by distance from attending the conventions. Huntingdon, as regards accessibility, is the most centrally located city in the state, being about equally distant from Pittsburg and Philadelphia, on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, at the junction of the Pennsylvania and Broad Top railroads, easily reached from the northern and northeastern sections by the Bald Eagle Valley railroad from Lock Haven and the Lewistown division from Sunbury.

It is one of the oldest towns west of the Susquehanna, full of historic associations, in the midst of the unsurpassed mountain scenery of Central Pennsylvania, well built, splendidly peopled, and altogether a most delightful place for a convention. As usual, the people will open their homes their hearts being always open, and give the delegates a warm welcome. Every county should be represented.

Among others who will take active part in the convention are Hon. John Wanamaker, well known to Sabbath school workers, and Mrs. B. F. Jacobs, of Chicago, President of the World's Sabbath School Convention. Others will be announced in the near future.

The County is Fortunate.

Clearfield county escaped by a narrow margin from having another murder case on hands. The shooting occurred at Munson's Station last Tuesday night between a party of Hungarians who were drunk, and from the facts the shooting was justified. District Attorney Bell was notified by telephone that another murder had taken place, and with those on hand he began to think he would have his hands full this week. The shooting occurred just over the county line in Centre county, and the wounded man was taken to the hospital at Philipsburg where he died Thursday. In their drinking the crowd appeared to have a grudge against one of the number and they all piled in and gave him a severe beating. He escaped for a short time but they surrounded him and again beat him. He was thrown down and it was then that he drew his revolver and shot one of them. The dead man is said to have a family in Hungary.—Clearfield Republican

Clinton Co. Political Ripples.

John Q. Dice, of Wagner township, Clinton county, and Dr. Tibbens, of Beech Creek, met at the Irvin House in Lock Haven on Wednesday and engaged in a conversation about the democratic situation in that county. Dr. Tibbens is a candidate for the legislative nomination of that district, while Dice is one of the democratic Behoys that help run the machine for revenue only. Dice informed the Doctor that it would take $2,200 to secure his nomination and election and then he might be left, as the d——n republicans might scoop in the whole democratic party this fall.

Married at Kane.

This Thursday afternoon Thomas B. Hutchinson, formerly of Bellefonte, will be married to Miss Nettie Stables, at Kane, Pa. The ceremony will be performed in the M. E. church of that place. Mr. Hutchinson holds a position as railway mail clerk between Kane and Butler. He is a republican but by passing a very creditable examination under the civil service rules, his average being 99, he secured the position. This speaks very high of the young man. His many friends at this place will be pleased to hear of his success.

The Furnace Fires Banked.

As announced in this paper a few days ago, owing to the coal miner's strike and their inability to get a supply of coke, the Valentine Iron company has been compelled to close down for the present. The fire in the furnace was banked on Wednesday, but just as soon as the strike is settled and a supply of coke can be obtained, the plant will again be put in operation.

A New Enemy.

A new enemy of clover has appeared in several eastern counties, but we have heard nothing of it at home. The destroyers are green worms of ordinary size, which cut acres of clover, as close to the ground as could be done by a mowing machine. Fields of young clover are destroyed in a day, and the destruction is often complete before it is discovered.

From State College.

STATE COLLEGE, May 9th. Lieutenant John C. Pemberton U. S. N. Assistant Professor of Mechanical Engineering, at State College, has tendered his resignation to take effect at the class of the present college year. Advanced years and poor health are the causes of his resigning. At his leaving the college faculty loses an active and proficient member, and the students, one of the kindest and most earnest instructors that ever graced a recitation room.

A contract has just been closed with a Milwaukee firm, by the Mechanical Engineering Department of State College, for a 150 H. P. triple expansion engine. This engine will be placed in the basement of the new Engineering building and will be used for experimental purposes only. The cost of the engine complete, is $10,000, and it will make a splendid addition to the already well equipped Mechanical Engineering Department of the college.

The Inter collegiate athletic association which will hold their athletic meet on Beaver Field at State College on Saturday, May 19th, is composed of the following colleges: Swarthmore, Lafeyette, Lehigh, Dickinson, Pennsylvania (Gettysburgh), Western University and State College.

STILL TALKING TARIFF.

The Senate Starts on the Seventh Week of the Discussion.

Washington, May 14.—The seventh week of the tariff bill in the senate began to-day. There was the usual quantity of discussion over the various items which were reached, but its quality was not nearly up to the daily average of that of the past two weeks. The republican senators were not so active in harassing the foe, and the democrats avoided debate, though not so carefully as previously.

Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, made a somewhat sensational speech in the discussion of the tariff bill in which he said that no such marvel had ever been seen as the surrender of all the democratic senators, except Mr. Mills to the sugar trust.

In response to a statement of Mr. Harris, of Tennessee, that this bill carried a duty of one eighth of a cent on refined sugar, as against the half cent in the McKinley bill, Mr. Platt said the present bill did no such a thing. There was not a man connected with the sugar trust as stockholder or speculator in Wall street who did not understand it; and there was not a senator who had demanded the increase who did not understand it.

The sugar question was further discussed by Senators Allison, Vest and Caffery. There were seven items in the bill considered and disposed of. The result was the fixing of rates of duties as follows:

On alcoholic perfumery, $2 per gallon and 50 per cent. ad valorem.

On alumina, alum, alum cake, etc., four tenths cents per pound.

On carbonate of ammonia, 20 per cent. ad valorem; on muriate of ammonia, 10 per cent., and on sulphate of ammonia, 20 per cent.; on blacking of all kinds and on bonechar, suitable for use in decolorizing sugars 20 per cent. ad valorem; on refined camphor, 10 per cent. ad valorem.

The senate, at 6 p. m., adjourned till to-morrow.

IN THE HOUSE.

In the house today on motion of Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, a bill was passed authorizing the construction of a bridge over the Monongahela river from a point near Dixon street, Homestead, to the city of Pittsburg.

The rest of the day was devoted to the consideration of business pertaining to the District of Columbia and the house at 4.57 adjourned until to-morrow.

The Mine Workers.

Cleveland, May 14—Representatives of the United Mine Workers of America met in executive session to-day. After an address by President John McBride the committee on credentials reported 188 delegates present from fourteen states. After the appointment of committees a recess was taken until 2 p. m.

At the afternoon session a committee was appointed to tabulate the scale of prices for the different fields covered by the association. A resolution was adopted to stand by the position taken by the national convention demanding a restoration of last year's prices. The scale committee met at the close of the session and after canvassing the situation delegates from each district were instructed to fix the price for their own district and report to the full committee tomorrow morning.

The officers of the Mine Workers' union state that the watchwords of the miners when they enter the conference with the operators tomorrow afternoon will be "the old scale and no comprise."

President McBride states that there was no possibility of the miners yielding to any local agreement whereby the scale should be paid, nor was there any possibility of the miners yielding to any general compromise.

The operators from Columbus and the Hocking Valley will arrive in the morning. Those who were seen tonight by the representative of the United Press expressed very little hope of a satisfactory conclusion by the conference.

The prospects tonight are for an extended conference unless there is an immediate break by the operators on account of the uncompromising attitude of the miners.

Big Ore Interests Sold.

Lebanon, Pa., May 14.—This morning the final deal was effected by which all of Robert H. Coleman's interests in the Cornwall ore banks and the furnaces at Cornwall and Lebanon were sold out to the Lackawanna Iron company of Scranton. The sum total paid, said one of Mr. Coleman's confidential friends to-day, amounts to about $3,000,000 of which $1,000,000 is cash. This includes 15⅝ shares in the Cornwall ore banks, the two anthracite furnaces at Cornwall, the two Colebrook furnaces and the controlling interest in the Cornwall and Lebanon railroad; also a farm of 125 acres in connection with the anthracite furnaces. The sale was made by Mr. Coleman's assignees, the Pennsylvania company for insurance on lives and granting annuities. The transaction leaves Mr. Coleman his home at Cornwall, one farm at Bismarck and another below Cornwall, and the Cole Brook estate which includes Mt. Gretna. It is claimed that the sale will secure the payment of all Mr. Coleman's debts, including the arrears to depositors of the trust and safe deposit bank. It is declared that the purchasers contemplate building two new furnaces in this vicinity or Cornwall in the near future, and that the deal was made with that end directly in view on their part.

The prospect bids fair to hold out the greatest benefit to Lebanon in view of the large scale of iron and steel manufactured that will be set in progress by this company.

Conjugal Census Statistics.

The census bulletin dealing with our conjugal statistics furnishes a number of surprises which are curiously contradictory of popular fmpressions. One of these contradictions is the establishment of the fact that there are more males than females in the country. The figures show that there were in the country at the time of the taking of the census 32,067,880 males and 30,554,370 females. Another contradiction is the establishment of the low per cent. of divorce, a fraction only of 1 per cent., whereas we have been told over and over again that the divorce business has increased at an appalling rate.

Another surprise contained in the bulletin is the table which shows that marriage exists in greater proportion in the manufacturing and industrial districts of the country than in the agricultural and rural. The general belief heretofore has been that the concentration in urban centres diminished marriage; that it did not flourish, in fact, so largely in cities as the country. The satisfaction assumes this to be explainable from the fact that the foreign population which comes to the urban centres were either married or of marriageable age at the time of their immigration. This, however plausible, does not furnish an entirely satisfactory explanation of the contradiction to prevalent ideas on the subject.

Division Encampment.

The division encampment of the national guard of the state has been ordered by Governor Pattison to be held at Gettysburg, from Aug. 11 to 18, inclusive.

The inspection required will be made by the adjutant general, the dates and organizations to be designated by the division commander. The quatermaster and commissary departments will furnish necessary transportation, quartermaster stores, camp and garrison equipage and subsistence. No enlistments, except re-enlistments, will be made for thirty days previous to the close of the encampment, and all enlistment papers of men who have been enlisted since the last encampment will be forwarded to the adjutant general's office on or before the time above mentioned.

The current season for rifle practice, which opened May 1, will close Oct. 31. Practice will be required of every officer and enlisted man, and no commutation for rifle range will be allowed any company that does not qualify its entire membership.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

A Camp and 2,000,000 Feet of Lumber Destroyed.

Williamsport, Pa., May 14.—The lumber camp of Emery & O'Brien, situated in the woods back of Cammal, this county, was wiped out by a forest fire yesterday, together with a saw mill and 1,000,000 feet of lumber. The droughth had rendered the woods as dry as timber and the flames spread with alarming rapidity, eating up everything in their path. The fire was attended by several narrow escapes from death and many exciting scenes. The occupants of the camp thought at first they could save the camp if they tried, and so directed their attention to that instead of the saving of their clothing, etc. Before they were aware of it almost, the fire was upon them and they realized their danger and started for Titman's railroad, about one mile from the camp. By wading in Trout Run and following its course, after many mishaps they finally reached the railroad.

David Foley and wife, together with Harry O'Brien and J. C. Chamberlain, were compelled to seek a place of safety under a ledge of rock and threw water on each other to keep from catching on fire. As it was all were more or less burned.

Dr. Duncan McCathrin became separated from the rest and took another course and when he reached the railroad a fine pair of shoes which he had on were completely worn out. He laid down once completely exhausted and never expected to be able to rise, but after resting a little while he made another effort and finally reached the railroad in safety.

As soon as the news reached Cammal, Titman's engine, manned by Engineer McGilvory and a volunteer fireman, with about twenty men and as many buckets, started for the scene of the disaster. When they reached what is called O'Brien's switch, they left the engine and found that by close and careful watching they could save about 1,000,000 feet of lumber piled near the switch. The woods for miles have been swept by the flames.

Conscience, or What!

"Conscience doth make cowards of us all," says the poet. But it is just so with the nerves. When a man's nerves are unstrung, through indigestion and torpid liver and impure blood, what wonder that he feels depressed and nervous! He starts at every little unexpected sound; is afraid of his shadow, and feels like a fool. Let such a man go to the drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great Blood-purifier and Liver invigorator. This is the only blood-purifier and liver invigorator guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money will be promptly refunded. It cures Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, and from its wonderful blood purifying properties, conquers all Skin and Scalp diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema and kindred ailments. All blood-poisons no matter of what name or nature, yield to its remedial influence.

Education and Premature Decay.

The shortness of life among the highly educated natives has been attracting a considerable amount of attention in India. There is a general tendency to put it down merely to their neglecting physical exercise for their studies. But that is not enough. Scotch students do the same, but their physique is not impaired. The Hindoo, however, in some respects presents a marked contrast to the Briton. Up to the age of nineteen, he is precocious, and shows himself on all points intellectually in advance of Englishmen at the same age. After twenty however, the advantage disappears, and the final test of the civil service examination, according to the present arrangement of age limits, comes at a time when, in the native, relative decadence has taken the place of marked superiority. Longevity and precocity cannot go together, and there is no doubt that the men in India, whose lives are most valuable to the community, die in the period of seed time and promise. Another potent cause is the early marriage of boy students. Many marry before they take their university degrees, and, if intellectual parents be so young, it is not likely that the intellectual class of the succeeding generation will be physically strong.—[W. H. Wilkins, in the Humanitarian.

The Depositors Will Get Nothing.

New Bloomfield, Pa., May 14.—Frederick C. Fink, the expert accountant who has been examining the affairs of the defunct Perry county bank, has made his report. The report shows that for eighteen years prior to the time at which the bank was closed it was insolvent, and that during that period it became more deeply involved each year. Mr. Fink can trace losses of $95,000, but there is a shortage of $56,000 for which he can find no explanation. Over $10,000 of judgment notes are marked satisfied on the docket, but the bank's books show no returns of the money. The money in the assignee's hands will be only sufficient to pay the preferred creditors and the expenses, leaving nothing to pay the $110,000 due to depositors and other creditors.

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla for weak nerves and it made them strong."
Alex. Smith, Orwigsburg, Pa.

Turn Out En Masse.

The college boys are hustling around to make the athletic contests on Saturday afternoon a great success. The Swarthmore boys, perhaps joined by the Lehigh and Lafayette delegations, will arrive here on Friday evening and spend the night in Bellefonte going on to the college on Saturday morning. Preparations are being made to handle the immense crowd that will attend from all parts of the State with the greatest ease. Don't let Tyrone, Lewisburg and these other towns surpass Bellefonte in the greeting that should be tendered these sturdy athletes. And, by all means, let us turn out an immense and enthusisastic crowd to support our own worthy State College boys

Examinations, begin at 9 a. m.; be punctual.

Should any fail to qualify at a regular examination, they may have a second trial at any of the specials.

Applicants are required to enter the class in the district in which they shall first apply for a school. See Section CCXVIII, School Laws of Penn'a, Page 159, edition of 1894.

The examination of persons to whom no certificate could issue, would be but a waste of time. They will, therefore, not be admitted to any of the classes.

Applicants will be examined in all branches, regardless of former grades.

A meeting of directors is desired on each day of examination; none but persons of good character should be permitted to enter the classes.

A large part of the work will be oral.

Citizens are cordially invited to be present.

Lost Her Hand But Saved Her Life.

Mrs. Edward Myers, of Athens, N. Y. has been treated for months in the usual way for erysipelas, without benefit. Her hand had become a mass of putrified flesh, the blood so poisoned that her life was despaired of. At this critical time Mrs Myers sought the advice of Dr. David Kennedy, discoverer of Favorite Remedy. Dr. Kennedy found it impossible to save the hand, so he amputated the same, then gave her Favorite Remedy which drove the poisonous disease out her system, cleansed the blood, thus saving her life.

Had Favorite Remedy been used earlier in the development of erysipelas, Mrs. Myers would have saved her hand. The worst cases of Eczema, salt rheum and scrofula, yield to Favorite Remedy. It is endorsed and prrescribed by the medical profession.

The blooming of the beautiful Spring flowers on the mountain, in the valley, by the waters of river and brook, remind us of our loving duty to our comrades who are sleeping "under the sod and the dew." Memorial Day—America's floral Sabbath—will be observed May 30th, and on soldiers' graves will be placed garland, flag and flowers.

Anthems of praise will be sung, requiems chanted, and grateful hearts will prompt willing hands to strew fresh flowers on the graves of the Nation's soldier dead, do not only show to the people of this great and peaceful country that our comrades, though dead, are not forgotten, but to teach the youth of our lands that Memorial Day is commemorative of the great struggle and final victory for "one country and one flag"—the one day consecrated to the memory of the loyal soldier and sailor.

The solemn, impressive services will recall days of conflict, the vicissitudes of the campaign, the horrors of the prison pen, the heroism on land and on sea, and as we go to the "city of silence, the land of the dead," the muffled drum beat will take us back through the dim vista of the past, and bring more closely and impressively to our hearts, than could the silver-tongued eloquence of a thousand lips, those loved comrades who have gone to their rest.

The commanders of armies, and the men who in the ranks swung sabre or carried musket, or on decks or men-of-war, stood true to country, home and flag, wear equal honors as they sleep peacefully beneath the little green mounds or down in the gardens of the sea. All were the defenders of the Nation's Unity and honor, and all receive the same loving homage of a grateful people.

Let this National tribute be paid by soldier and sailor in a spirit of comradeship, and let them go forth.

"With loving hands to scatter flowers
And place the flag above his breast;"

and the patriotism of this and of coming generations will honor and revere the Grand Army of the Republic because of its devotion and grateful remembrance.

II. Every Post in this Department will arrange for the observance of Memorial Day, and every comrade is urged to give this one day to our great organization.

III. It is suggested that, in localities where there are two or more Posts, arrangements be made by committees for the proper division of the work of the day. Other organizations should be encourged to take part in the ceremonies.

IV. The Department Commander recommends that the Posts attend Divine Service on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day, and arrange for the preaching of a sermon fitted for the occesion.

By command of Wm. Embley,
Department Commander.

The How Of It.

How poor, how rich, how abject, how august how complicated, how wonderful, is man: and it might be added, how "more so" is woman. With her peculiarly delicate and intense organization, she is the superlative degree of man. Even in diseases she excels him, having many that he has not. She has, however, found out a grand remedial agent, for the cure of her diseases, in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; a medicine suited to her nature, made for the express cure of those diseases which affect her. It is especially effective in all weakness incidental to motherhood, while it is also a potent restorative tonic for the feeble and debilitated generally.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage license granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

Harry T. Breth and Maggie B. Geesey, both of Altoona.

Wm. B. Ripka and Emma Weayer, both of Gregg township.

W. N. Irvin and Susie Williams, both of Julian.

Bert Bathurst, of Boggs twp. and Sarah Glasgow, of Potter twp.

Harry Finley, of Hollidaysburg, and Bertha May Flack, of Bellefonte.

Wm. Burd and Katie E. Snavely, both of Penn township.

David H. Williams and Ellen Jane Morrison, both of Houtzdale.

George J. Hosband and Lida Adams, both of Union township.

Eating of Food.

Children should be trained to eat slowly, no matter how hungry or what important business is pressing. Much safer a little food well ground than a hearty meal swallowed in haste. Cold food is even more difficult to digest than hot, if taken too rapidly. The normal temperature of the stomach is about ninety-eight degrees; food has to be raised to this temperature before digestion can take place. —People's Health Journal.

Drunken Men Must Keep Out of the Cemetery.

On Tuesday two intoxicated individuals, one a married man and one single and both residents of Bellefonte, made the Union cemetery on East Howard street their rendevous until away in the night. We are requested by Mr. Shutt, the keeper of the cemetery, to say that drunken men are not allowed in the cemetery and that in the future any individual under the influence of liquor who goes in or attempts to go in, will be handed over to the police to deal with as the law prescribes. The parties who were there on Tuesday are both known and if they ever return in that condition, they will be dealt with as above.

BIG BOSTON FIRE.

Boston, May 15.—Some small Roxbury boys set themselves up as rivals to Mrs. O'Leary's cow on the Boston base ball grounds this afternoon and as a result the city was visited by the biggest fire since Thanksgiving, 1892, and a conflagration covering a greater area than any since the memorable one of 1872. While the financial loss is not a circumstance to that of either of the above mentioned fires, yet in less than three hours some twelve acres of territory were burned.

The base ball grand stand and bleachers, a large school house, an engine house and 164 wooden buildings burned and 1,000 families were rendered homeless.

The loss is conservatively estimated at from $300,000 to $500,000, although one authority puts it at $1,000,000.

Indications are that the fire was caused by carelessness and mischief and became beyond control through stupidity.

The Explosion of a Bomb

Startles all within hearing. So the pains which arise from derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, quickly alarm those who experience them. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets afford a speedy and inexpensive cure. Sick headache, bilious headache, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks yield like magic to this wonderful specific. Only one tiny sugar-coated Pellet for a laxative dose. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. The action is prompt and pleasant. Absolutely the best Liver Pill made. Your money given back if they do not give entire satisfaction. The only pill posessed of such merit as to warrant their being sold on trial!

Mrs. Dr. W. S. Bigelow Dead.

The many friends of Mrs. Dr. W. S. Bigelow, of Philipsburg, will be shocked to know that she died about 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. She had been ill for several weeks, but had rallied and strong hopes of her recovery to health, friends and the christion work she so delighted in were entertained. This seems a cruel blow to husband, family and friends, and the entire community grieves and sympathizes with them in their great less.

Clearfield's Poor Farm.

The people of Clearfield county by a vote having decided in favor of the erection of a poor house, the Spirit says 120 farms have been offered the county commissioners for poor farms. Some of them are poor farms in every way and others are still poorer.

Literary Note from The Century Co

Mrs. Burton Harrison's new novel, "A Bachelor Maid," which is to begin soon in The Century, is said to be the most contemporaneous story Mrs. Harrison has ever written. The heroine is a New York girl agitated by all the current movements; a noble character struggling with the conditions, fads, sympathies, and philanthropic schemes of our day. The story comes down to the period of the new agitation of the Woman's Suffrage question.

The Social Economist for May argues that "the gaeat bargains are nearby," provided the nearby consumers can be stimulated to desire and demand the very best goods and the most of them. Earning comes of the determination to have, to be and to enjoy; the psychic spring that moves men to toil is aspiration toward the excellent and perfect in their possessions. Mr Gunton strikes down to the tap-root of economics and finds it in Longfellow's nervy youth, "Excelsior" "Have much, want much" is the key to upward climbing in production, as in poetry.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Tailor-Made Suits: Independent Waists: Graduating Dresses: Hosiery.

Judging from present appearances, this will certainly be a "tailor-made" season, almost all materials suitable for street wear sharing the same fate, and dusty skirt ruffles now scarcely exist. The sole drawback however is, that the "tailor suit" amounts to nothing unless well cut; therefore home dress making must be expended upon less exacting costumes. Flannels are almost entirely superseded by duck, pique, or linen, and as Fashion always supplies an endless variety, large collars which button on the under side, are brought out especially for these tailor-suits, having a very deep sailor back and broad revers at the front. Striped Galatea is particularly well adapted to this purpose, and five or six different ones, are about the usual supply.

With Cutaway Jackets

so greatly in the ascendency, vests are more varied than ever, and for cool days, those of cloth closed to the throat are a real protection; but for summer, pique, or striped silk are shown, and full, colored silk fronts, trimmed with lace insertion, mitigate the severity of the low cut vest and linen skirt front. Striped or plain colored cambric waists with a black belt, are less expensive than any other vest arrangement; many being made with small sleeves, especially for jacket wear. Independent cambric muslin or silk waists are very fancifully made, almost always with bretelles or two or three shoulder frills, those of the two first named not unfrequently scalloped in black; or a white yoke with rows of narrow black velvet run through open lace, from the shoulder to the throat and tied with a full velvet bow is in great favor; but a subject of special interest to ladies just now, is the introduction of a new brand of spool cotton, the trade mark being N-E-W-, manufactured by the Wm. Clark Co., and its superiority is so manifest that it has been taken up by the largest dealers; dressmakers especially giving it preference. Quite a novel idea in chine gingham dresses, is a parasol and hat to match; the gingham is shirred on a frame with a fancy black skaw edging, and trimmed with field flowers and grasses.

The First Requisite

of graduating dresses is simplicity, and the professors of many prominent schools now prohibit on these occasions any distinctions of wealth. Silk or cotton mull, lawn or pin-dotted Swiss muslin are very generally employed; skirts just escaping the floor, with a ruffle of the material and perhaps a row of lace insertion. A belted round waist with white satin or moire ribbon from shoulder to waist, collar, and sometimes bows at the shoulder, with bow at the back of the belt, is the general model upon which these dresses are formed. Square yokes of puffs and insertion may be used, and sash ends are optional. High neck and long sleeves are universal this season, and epaulettes of embroidery are often set in the armhole. White shoes and stockings give the requisite finish, at the same time black are admissible. White or colored pin-dotted Swiss muslin is the most popular of all sheer fabrics; so much that pin dotted ruffling edged by handsome embroidery is brought out in pieces for trimming purposes, and even black dotted Swiss, over black silk, will be very fashionable for persons not in mourning.

Plain Brown Is The Leading Color

for general wear in hosiery, varied by lengthwise lace ribs at the front and the Ricklieu rib at the back. Black still holds good, particularly lace open work for evening. Embroidered white silk, minute colored dots on black or colors, and vertical contrasting stripes, are a few of the leading styles.

AS A SUPPORT for exhausted, nervous, overworked women, nothing can do as much as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates and assists all the natural functions, never conflicts with them, and it strengthens and builds up the female system in a way of its own.

Nursing mothers and women approaching confinement, will find it exactly fitted to their needs. It lessens the pains and burdens of child-bearing, ensures healthy, vigorous offspring and promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment on the part of the mother.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nervine, and the only guaranteed remedy for woman's chronic ills and ailments. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in the case of every tired or afflicted woman, she'll have her money back.

On these terms, can anything else be "just as good" for you to buy?

TOUGH POLO PONY.

HOW THE HARDY ANIMAL FARES AMONG COLORADO'S FOOTHILLS.

The Transformation In Appearance and Value That Takes Place After the Little Brute Is Fitted For Approval by Newport's Heavy Swells.

The sun is beating pitilessly down on the brown foothills of Colorado, for it is high noon, and the month is August.

A pony mare, dun in color and only just 14 hands in height, is moving about uneasily, evidently weary, anxious and watchful. Her coat is rough, her ribs show gauntly, and her hoofs are innocent of shoes. Altogether the little mare is not an attractive animal, yet were a horseman to pass by and cast, as he undoubtedly would, a second glance at the pony, he would be sure to see some rare good points in her makeup.

She has a good, intelligent head, fair shoulders, a roomy middle piece and most excellent legs—hard, clean and without the least sign of splint or spavin. Her meanest point is a poor quarter. She is also somewhat goose rumped. Although it might be difficult to prove it, for stud books are not kept very carefully on the ranches, she has a drop of the desert blood, her grandsire being a half bred, imported by an English ranchman somewhere in the 70's.

The air is growing hotter each minute. Far as the eye can reach is the same sun baked, rolling expanse of dried buffalo grass. The mare moves toward a stunted patch of sage bush scrub, and in a second or two has come to where a little foal, scarcely more than a few hours old, is lying panting in the shade. She dares not go very far away, for the lean wolf and hungry coyote would soon make short work of her offspring did they not know that a kick from even an unshod hoof will pulverize the stoutest wolf that ever prowled the plains.

The poor little immature thing would, were it born in the east instead of in the west, be the object of tender solicitude to numerous stablemen, and its every want would be supplied, but here, among the foothills, it will have to be built of pretty good timber to stand the strain of existence. The nearest water is five miles away, and yet that distance will have to be traversed every time the dam has to drink, and even now she cannot resist the temptation much longer.

With a low whinny the gentle creature calls the youngster, and as it comes gambolling up she starts in a direction which her instinct tells her will be a bee line to the nearest spring—a dirty, muddy pool, roiled by cattle, and a favorite haunt of the hungry coyote.

The mare and foal reach their destination in safety, and each day the same dreary path has to be traversed and retraversed. Is it any wonder that the western pony is tough and enduring? Muscles of steel and bones of iron. When in after life the gallant little beast has to carry a heavy 6 foot rider in some cup match at Newport, Cedarhurst or Wenham, it is mere child's play compared with the daily struggle for existence when a foal.

In due season the foal becomes a colt and is taken into the corals of the ranch to which it belongs. Naturally docile, though spirited, it happily gets broken without becoming "mean," though, seeing that Singleshot Mike did the breaking after his usual rough and ready fashion, this is something to be wondered at.

Ridden at the annual roundup, and also at the usual routine work of the ranch by one of the boys, the dun colt, or as it is now called, buckskin, eventually becomes one of the handiest ponies owned by the outfit, and being naturally gifted with a very fair turn of speed, owing to the diluted but still potent drop of desert blood inherited from the imported great-grandsire, finally attracts the attention of the boss and becomes his own especial favorite mount.

The dun pony is now just 5 years old, 14 hands high, and just the stamp to catch a polo player's eye. One fine day Cutaway, the noted horse dealer, comes along, on the lookout for anything that will sell for a good price at Newport. He has an almost unlimited order for really good geldings, but cannot sell more than half a dozen mares during the season, as the eastern players will have nothing to do with them as a rule, much to the bewilderment of the cow punchers, who consider, and rightly enough, too, that the mare is usually more enduring, quicker and handier than the horse or gelding.

Cutaway notes the buckskin at a glance, and although he is far too astute to let on inwardly determines to have the little beggar. Well he knows that he will be amply able to give any sum likely to be demanded by the boss, and still make a handsome profit on the transaction when he gets to Newport.

The scene now shifts a couple of thousand miles to the eastward. The dun was purchased for $150, and it cost another $25 to put him where he is—in a comfortable but unpretentious stable in the rear of the Ocean House. A probable purchaser is expected; the litter in the stall is changed, the pony given a final rubdown, his tail has been docked before starting for the east, and in the sleek, neatly groomed little nag no one would recognize the shaggy, ill kept brute of two months before.

A dogcart stops at the stable door, a dapper groom jumps to the cob's head, and Charley Heavyswell alights to have a look at Cutaway's latest bit of equine perfection. Of all the swagger Newport men Charley Heavyswell is by long odds the most gorgeous. His appearance on this fine June morning is a thing of chastened beauty, but to give him his due he also is a most finished horseman and absolutely fearless. No man in the country can "hustle a sticker—a flier can spare"—quite so well as Charley Heavyswell.

He is languidly pleased at the dun pony and directs that it be sent down to the polo field about 3 p. m., so that he may have a chance to throw a leg over it before the match begins.

The pony acquits himself so creditably for a green un that Cutaway sets the price at $350 and gets a check for that amount before the week is out—something that does not always happen when a Newport man is the buyer, but Charley Heavyswell's pocketbook is a capacious one, and for a man who controls two or three railroads he is uncommonly free with his money.

After this the dun pony's existence is like that of hundreds of other western ponies that have been brought east to play polo. His counterparts may be seen three times a week at Wenham, Hingham, Newport or Rockaway. They are always good, hardy, little beasts and rarely sick or sorry.—Boston Herald.

SHORN OF THEIR HORNS.

An Operation Necessary to Render Vicious Young Buck Deer Harmless.

Five vigorous young buck deer at the zoo are harmless as a result of operations with lasso and meat saw by Director Smith and his six assistants. Bucks with horns, hard horns, are dangerous to the lives of their mates, their keepers and themselves. Everything about them in their quarters shows the effect of rough usage, even the trees, fences and ground. All the trees in the inclosure have to be protected by iron railings. Otherwise their lives would be torn out by the wicked deer.

Ordinarily a buck's horns are allowed to grow until nature sheds them. If the animals are of a particularly good disposition, this is allowable. But in most cases they become vicious as soon as the velvet has dried and worn off their antlers, and they become dangerous.

The first thing necessary in relieving a buck of its horns is to catch the buck. In an inclosure a lasso is resorted to, and only by those quick with the eye and leg. All the keepers went to the two fallow deer paddocks armed with lassos. Some were as efficient as cowboys. Others resorted to the dodge act, getting behind trees as the bucks dashed for them, full of fight, stamping their feet in righteous rage.

Five beautiful fallow deer occupied the north paddock. One was so fat that the director hesitated about catching it. But as it was the worst of the lot it had to undergo the operation. So much for a bad disposition.

Keeper Snyder laid his plans for that one first. The buck, with lowered head and distorted nostrils, charged the keeper. Snyder dodged and swung his lariat. It missed and fell on the animal's back. Another dash, this time for the other keepers. All got out of the way. One more swing by Snyder, and the loop fell over the buck's horns. A tug-of-war resulted, Keepers Snyder, Holmes, Warren and Cook on one end of the rope and the buck on the other.

Slowly the buck was drawn up to a tree until its antlers went around both sides. Snyder and Warren then seized its legs, and as the animal jumped back threw it. All four of its legs were tied underneath, as a calf is treated on going to market in a farm buggy. The buck's struggles were fearful, and a thin coating of blood and froth appeared at its nostrils. After being secured Keeper Shannon produced a common meat saw, and in two minutes the noble animal had been shorn of its adornments.

It was so weak when released that after a couple of terrific bounds it landed flat on the ground and panted and heaved. While it was recovering the others underwent the same operation. Invariably whenever a lasso was thrown the animals bounded into the air six feet, and the noose fell short. Three thousand spectators saw the battle and cheered the men on.

In one of the buck's charges Keeper Holmes' knee was badly bruised by a blow from the animal's hoofs. If the blow had been square, his leg might have been broken. When released, the bucks bounded away to the iron fence, their heads striking it 10 feet above the ground, only to fall and recover themselves for another charge.

One got his head between the bars, and it being a tight fit the whole fence shook as it tugged and jerked. It seemed as if it would break its neck. Instead, the iron bars, an inch in diameter, bent aside and allowed the head to escape. Another buck charged with such abandon that its nose bled.

The first one clipped was in a bad way for some time. The keepers had to carry it into the house, where it lay fainting and unable to rise. Mr. Smith said the fat had accumulated to such an extent about the animal's heart that the action of that organ was materially affected, and as in the case of an overfat person great excitement was liable to produce heart failure.—New York World.

A Foretaste of Death.

A foreshadowing affecting its subject as with a foretaste of death was that recorded by Charles Mackay of his friend, Mr. Ingram, founder of the London Illustrated News. Traveling together in Switzerland, the two were witnesses one night in Chamounix of one of the thunderstorms that rage with such appalling grandeur amid those mountainous regions. Mackay's raptures over the scene were checked by seeing his friend crouched in a corner on the floor, his face pale, his hair on end with terror. The paroxysm was succeeded by unconsciousness, on recovering from which he told Mackay how, ever since he could remember, he had been possessed of this unaccountable and utterly uncontrollable horror of a thunderstorm.

Some eight years later Mr. Ingram was crossing Lake Michigan when the steamer was run into by a sailing vessel, and amid a scene of terror and confusion, it being night and a violent thunderstorm raging, crew and passengers were precipitated into the waters. As it was five hours before Ingram's body, still warm with recent life, was washed ashore, he must have been struggling all that time—an eternity of suffering to one like him—in the dark, tempestuous waters beneath the lightning riven sky.—London Tit-Bits.

Washing Cooking Utensils.

Sometimes the most careful washing will not wholly remove the flavor or odor of food from the utensil in which it was cooked. This is frequently the case with fish, onions, cabbage, etc., but there is a remedy which may be a little trouble and yet is well worth trying.

After any of these articles have been cooked wash the utensil carefully with soap and water. Now nearly fill it with cold water, and for each quart of water add about a tablespoonful of dissolved washing soda. Place on the fire and let the water get boiling hot. Now turn this water into the sink. Rinse the utensil with clean warm water, and on wiping it dry it will be found perfectly sweet.—Exchange.

Knew His Step.

"Did you know that I passed your door last evening?" said the young man tenderly.

"Of course," replied the beautiful girl, with reproach in her glistening eyes. "Do you not think I would know your step?"

"Certainly," said the happy young man as he directed the conversation away from the subject and avoided remarking that he had passed the door in a cab.—Chicago Record.

Call for Republican County Convention.

The Republicans of Centre county will meet at their respective voting places in the several election districts in the county on Saturday, June 16th, 1894, for the purpose of electing delegates to the County Convention. The delegates chosen at that will meet in convention at the Court House in Bellefonte, on Tuesday, June 19th, 1894, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating two candidates for Assembly, one candidate for office of Associate Judge, and one candidate for Jury Commissioner. The said delegates in convention assembled will also elect three judicial conferees, three congressional conferees, and three senatorial conferees, to meet with other conferees elected in the counties composing the judicial, congressional and senatorial districts respectively.

The said convention will also, at the time and place above designated, elect a Chairman of the County Committee to serve for the year 1895 and will also transact such other and further business as may properly come before the same.

Under the rules of the party the number of delegates to which each precinct is entitled is as follows:

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Osgood,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Kincheloe,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. Archer, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
United Hospital and Dispensary,
Boston, Mass.

RIOTERS SHOT DOWN.

Gendarmes Will Have No Foolishness and Shot to Kill.

Troppau, Austrian Silesia, May 9.—The striking miners made a desperate attack today upon a detachment of gendarmes who were guarding a colliery in Polish Ostrau, with the object of driving away the men who were at work. Many thousands of miners are on strike in the mining districts in Silesia, and a number of them have openly defied the authorities upon several occasions.

The body of miners in Polish Ostrau marched upon the colliery, carrying weapons of various descriptions, though it appeared that heavy sticks predominated. Upon arriving at the colliery it was found the buildings and pitentrances were guarded by a strong detachment of gendarmes. The rioters were warned to disperse, but instead of doing so they began pelting the police officers with stones, wounding a number of them.

Finally the leaders of the mob became bolder and persuaded the strikers to make a rush upon the police, expecting to drive them from the positions they occupied. The gendarmes, after a last warning, opened fire upon the rioters, killing nine of them and wounding twenty others. The mob then fled in all directions, threatening, however, to return in larger numbers and avenge the death of their comrades.

The gendarmes are being reinforced and no further trouble is anticipated at that particular point.

A Double Lynching.

Topeka, Kan., May 9.—Two of the murderers of H. S. Corley, of Wallace county, where lynched by the citizens of Sharon Springs last night. Corley was killed on April 30 with a garden hoe. Fred McKinley, who was accused of the crime, was arrested about 25 miles west of Cheyenne Wells, Col.

Upon being brought back to Wallace county and confronted by his neighbors, he made a full confession of the crime and implicated his father, Wm. McKinley, and his older brother, Lewis, who planned the murder, leaving the execution of it to Fred, the younger son. The three were arraigned in court on Monday where Fred pleaded guilty, but his father and brother denied all knowledge of the crime. Wm. and Lewis McKinley were placed in jail at Sharon Springs from which they were forcibly taken at a late hour last night and hanged to a railroad bridge near the town.

The bodies were discovered there this morning with no evidence to show who was responsible for the deed. Fred McKinley had previously been removed from the jail and placed under a special guard or he would probably have shared the fate of the others. He has sinced been removed to the Trego County Jail.

The murdered man had recently married a daughter of McKinley, and it is stated that he agreed to pay the father $200 for his consent. After the marriage he declined to make the payment, and the relatives prevailed upon Fred, who is only 17 years old, to kill him.

Knights of the Golden Eagle.

Easton, May 9.—The report of the grand master of records, Knights of the Golden Eagle, J. D. Barnes, gives the following statistics of the order: Subordinate castles, Dec. 31, 1892, 467; instituted during the year, 18; characters surrendered, 11; number of castles, Dec. 31, 1893, 474; members, Dec. 31, 1892, 40,312; initiated during the year, 4,245; admitted by card, 257; reinstated 351; withdrawn by card, 735; suspended, 4,478; deceased, 309; expelled, 36; resigned, 21; membership, Dec. 31, 1893, 40,586; net increase of members, 278; number of past supreme chief, 5; number of past grand chiefs, 18; number of past chief, 7,590; number of members of Crusaders' degree, 32506; number of members of Knights' degree, 266; number of members of Pilgrims' degree, 201; number of rejections during the year, 181; number who received relief, 5,258; number of widowed families who received relief, 142; amount of receipts of subordinate castles, $309,875,57; amount expended, including investments, $311,72161,; amount paid to sick members, $98,689,57; amount paid for burial of the dead, $25,55567; amount of donations, $3,555,60: total amount paid for relief, $128,75084; amount on hand and invested, $588,474,15; net increase of funds, $46,15923.

An Attempt at Incendiarism.

Philipsburg, Pa., May 9.—Late last night a small engine house was set on fire near the extensive shaft operated by R. B. Wigton & Sons. The timely discovery of the fire prevented the flames from spreading to other and more expensive buildings. This morning it was discovered that the engine and pump adjoining the shaft had been thoroughly soaked with oil. The miners disclaimed any knowledge of who did the work, called a meeting and adopted vigorous resolutions denouncing the act and offering their services to do guard duty about the property as long as any watching is required. The difficulty at the mines near Osceola was settled this morning by the operator agreeing not to run his mine until the action of the Cleveland conference, on the 15th of the month, is known.

Over a Million Dollars Squandered.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 9.—The dead body of Caleb Munson was found in the rear of a little stand, a block from the central police station here. He had been suffocated by gas and had lain where he was found since Sunday. Munson came here from Illinois four years ago with over $1,000,000 to his credit. He had trouble with his family and took to drink. His fortune rapidly left him, and for the past few months he has had to be taken care of by his friends.

Lock Haven People.

Ex-Sheriff and ex-postmaster Barker, of Lock Haven, is now deputy sheriff under Sheriff Hoover. He has been suffering with a year's illness which has told on his general appearance, but now thinks he has fully recovered his health.

H. T. Harvey, Esq., is looking more and more like General Burnside as the years roll by.

Col. Kress has improved in health wonderfully within the last two years. His law practice is first-class.

Signor Blitz, clothing merchant, son of the late Mrs. Simons, shows that his years, or early piety, are wearing on his physique.

Alva Grow, Clinton's Register and Recorder, keeps his office in a neat and business-like style. Col. Jarrett, his able assistant, with his long flowing beard, which is fast turning white, looks like one of the ancient patriarchs that we read about in Josephus. Mr. McCreary and his assistant takes care of the treasury department of the county, while Losh & Co., attend to the prothonotary business. All the county officers are republicans.

Alderman John W. Harris is still enlarging his bay window as his fees increase. His decisions are seldom reversed and John is moving rapidly on the road to glory in the skies. We hope he will get there on time and in good shape, as he is a republican of the ancient order.

Senator Peale appears to be enjoying life as he has just returned from a sea voyage taken for his health. He is as happy as a clam in a sand bank.

Lock Haven's Newspapers.

The newspaper fraternity of Lock Haven is well represented by Robinson, of the Democrat, who is trying to locate Reed's and Horner's forts, which existed previous to the revolutionary war. In many respects he resembles our own Gorge Meek, the society editor of the Watchman. Robison can be classed among the first-class bricks of the Democrat.

Terrence McCloskey, his first name should be Terror—not a holy terror,—belongs to the Express, and although his hair is as gray as an old rat, is as active in news gathering as a boy of 25 years, and what he can't find out he knows all about just the same, consequently he makes the local department of the Express highly interesting.

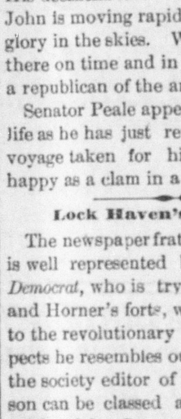
WORKING WOMEN.

THEIR HARD STRUGGLE

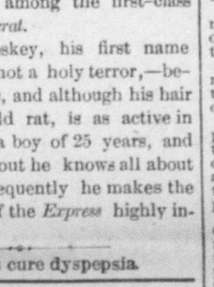
Made Easier by the Timely Intervention of One Woman,

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

All women work. Some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. Many in stores, mills, and shops, tens of thousands are on the never ceasing treadmill earning their daily food.



All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance; and the nature of their duties in many cases quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints—ovarian troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, leucorrhœa, or perhaps irregularity or suppression of "monthly periods"—causing severe backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.



Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing down, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and you will again be free. Accept the truth.

You can tell the story of your pain to a woman, and get the help that only a woman can give. Her address is, Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

—RULES—
OF THE
BOARD OF HEALTH
OF THE
Borough of Bellefonte, Pa

OFFICERS AND MEMBERS:
COL. WILLIAM SHORTLIDGE, President.
H. C. QUIGLEY, Secretary.
GEORGE F. HARRIS, M. D.,
R. G. H. HAYES, M. D.,
J. L. SEIBERT, M. D.,
WILBUR F. REEDER, ESQ.

1 The Board shall be organized at the first meeting in each and every year, by the election of a President and a Secretary, to serve for the current year.

2 The Board shall hold stated meetings on the first Monday of every month at 7.30 o'clock from 1st of October to 1st of April, and at 8 o'clock from 1st of April to 1st of October and it may hold special meetings when convened by order of the President, or at the call of any two of its members.

THE PRESIDENT.

1 The President shall preside at the meetings of the Board, preserve order and decorum, and appoint the members of committees, unless otherwise directed.

2 In the absence of the President, a chairman of the meeting shall be appointed.

THE SECRETARY.

1 The Secretary shall keep accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and conduct such correspondence as the Board may direct and approve.

2 The Secretary shall keep a cash book, in which entries shall be made of the receipts as they occur, and pay over to the Board monthly all moneys received by him.

3 He shall furnish the Board, at its first meeting in every month, a detailed statement of the receipts of the office during the preceding month.

4 He shall, whenever any bill is referred to him for collection, enter the same, together with a full description of the claim upon which the said bill is founded, upon a docket kept for that especial purpose, and note opposite to the said entry such action as may be taken, from time to time, in relation thereto.

5 He shall, at the expiration of four months after date of said bills, turn over to the Borough Solicitor for lien, all claims remaining unpaid, and furnish the Board with a transcript of the same.

6 He shall, in all business referred to him, and requiring legal proceedings, prosecute the same, but take such proceedings only in conjunction with the Borough Solicitor.

7 He shall, whenever this Board directs a nuisance to be removed under his supervision, abstain from employing any person who is, or may be, under prosecution for any violation of the health laws. The same prohibition is hereby extended to any other agent of the Board to whom such duty may be assigned.

8 He shall award all contracts for abating nuisances within twenty-four (24) hours after the order of the Board has been placed in his hands, and shall impose a condition in said contracts that the work must be commenced within forty-eight (48) hours after acceptance, and prosecuted continuously to completion.

9 He shall keep a book, in which he shall record all cases of contagious or infectious diseases reported to the office, with the date of the report, the location and name of the patient, the disease under which he labors, and the name of the physician in attendance. He shall have the general superintendence of the registration department.

10 He shall also keep copies of all agreements and letters made or written by order of the Board, and of such other documents as the Board may direct.

11 He shall notify the chairman of all committees of the business referred to them by the Board. He shall also notify all elected officers of their election.

12 He shall grant licenses to competent persons to clean privies, under the rules of the Board, when so directed, and for each license he shall receive the sum of one dollar, and he shall renew the said license from time to time, as the Board may direct, upon the payment of the like sum.

13 He shall place in the hands of the High Constable for execution all orders to abate nuisances, where the owners or agents have failed to comply with the notice of the Board, providing the cost of removing said nuisance shall not exceed the sum of five dollars.

14 He shall have the entire superintendence of the office, answer all questions appertaining to the business of the Board and office, and furnish the Board with a list of such supplies as may be needed.

15 It shall be his duty to issue permits to clean privy-wells, in accordance with the Act of April 3, 1851, and the rules of the Board relating thereto.

16 He shall issue permits for the removal of dead bodies from one cemetery to another, or from one grave or vault to another in the same cemetery, within the bounds of the borough, quarantine seasons excepted, unless by special order of the Board. In all cases, before issuing a permit, he shall require a certificate containing the name, age, cause of death, and date of death of the deceased.

17 He shall keep a record of all moneys received by him in his official capacity, in a book provided for that purpose, and report the same to the Board.

18 He shall receive all complaints of nuisances, having the name and residence of the complainant thereto attached and place them in the hands of the High Constable for examination. He shall record the same, when returned by the High Constable, in a book kept for the purpose, specifying the date, the location, the character of the nuisance, and make out a duplicate notice of that served upon the owner or agent. He shall submit to the Board, at each stated meeting, for confirmation or otherwise, the action of the High Constable upon complaints of nuisances and shall report any neglect of duty upon the part of the High Constable in making his examinations and returns. He shall notify committees and witnesses to attend meetings, whenever so directed by the chairman thereof. He shall append to all notices for removing nuisances that part of the law imposing a penalty for neglect or refusal to remove such nuisances.

19 He shall have the entire charge of all books and papers belonging to the Board: shall see that all entries are accurately made, and the books kept in good order and condition.

20 He shall examine carefully the returns of contagious diseases, and should any omissions or errors occur therein, it shall be his duty to notify the parties making said returns to make the necessary corrections, and any neglect or refusal on their part shall be reported to the Board.

21 He shall keep, in a book provided for the purpose, record of the names and residences of physicians, clergymen, justices of the peace, sextons, undertakers and others required by law to make returns to the Health Officer; and should any person or persons so required, when notified, neglect or refuse to call at the office and record their names and residences, he shall report the fact to the Board in writing.

22 He shall fill up all permits for the removal of dead bodies from the borough for interment, having first obtained the certificate of the attending physician, accompanied by that of the undertaker, together with the approval of the Secretary, one of whose signatures shall in all cases be appended thereto.

23 He shall at all times during office hours give to lawyers, physicians and clergymen access to the registration books, and allow them to take notes of the contents; and to all other persons desirous of examining into the merits of the system, he shall furnish every necessary facility.

24 For all permits to remove dead bodies from the borough for interment, and for all certified transcripts from the registration record, there shall be a charge demanded of fifty cents, to be paid over to the Secretary.

ELECTIVE OFFICERS.

1 At the first stated meeting of each year, there shall be elected one physician, who shall serve as Inspector, and Vaccine Physician; and who shall enter on his duties immediately thereafter, and continue in office until discharged by action of the Board, or another elected in his stead.

COMMITTEES.

1 The following standing committees shall be appointed annually, at the first meeting after the organization of the Board:

1 A Sanitary Committee, consisting of three members.

2 A Committee of Accounts, consisting of two members.

SANITARY COMMITTEE.

1 The functions of the Sanitary Committee shall be equivalent to that of the Health Officer.

2 The Sanitary committee shall be entrusted, subject to the general superintendence, orders and by-laws of the Board, with the exercise and performance of those powers and duties vested by law in the Board of Health, so far as relates to the prevention and spread of contagious diseases, and likewise with the management of such hospitals for contagious diseases as the Board shall at any time order to be opened.

Provided, That no important addition, alteration, or improvement be undertaken in relation to the same without the sanction of the Board.

3 The said committee shall hold stated meetings at least once every month and special meetings upon the call of the Chairman, or any two members thereof.

4 At the first stated meeting subsequent to their appointment, the committee shall elect from among themselves a Secretary, who shall keep in a book provided for that purpose, fair minutes of all their proceedings.

5 The committee shall cause every reported case of malignant or contagious diseases existing within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Board of Health to be visited without delay, and shall be authorized to take such other measures in relation thereto as a majority of the members shall deem proper.

6 Whenever a report shall be received that a case of any malignant or contagious disease has occurred within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Board of Health, the Secretary of the Board shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Sanitary Committee.

7 When necessary, the Board shall appoint one or more physicians to perform the duties specified in the preceding section, and shall determine the compensation to be paid for the services of the same.

8 Whenever the Board, upon representation from the Sanitary committee, shall determine it to be expedient to provide and hold in readiness one or more hospitals for contagious diseases, temporary or permanent, the committee shall select the location of the same, secure the services of competent nurses, and otherwise put those establishments in condition to be opened with the least delay possible for the reception of patients, while the Board shall appoint one or more physicians to attend the sick, and shall determine the compensation to be paid to them, as also to the nurses for their services.

9 As soon as practicable after the Board has determined to provide such a hospital, the Sanitary Committee shall arrange and submit to the Board for its approbation, a plan of hospital operations, so that everything may be conducted economically and efficiently from the day the hospital shall be opened.

10 All requisitions for medicines and hospital supplies shall be made in writing, upon the chairman of the committee, by the physician in attendance, and for all other articles necessary for the proper management of these hospitals a requisition in writing must be made by the Steward.

11 No patient shall be admitted into such hospitals excepting upon an order signed by a member of the Sanitary Committee. The rate of board to be paid by the patients shall be fixed by the Sanitary Committee.

COMMITTEE ON ACCOUNTS.

1 All bills, being first certified as correct by a majority of the committee by whose order the bill was incurred, shall be presented to the Board, and by it referred for examination to the Committee on Accounts, previously to an order being passed for their payment.

REMOVAL OF NUISANCES.

1 Whenever the cost of removing a nuisance reported upon shall exceed five dollars, the case shall be referred back to the High Constable, who shall report to this Board at the earliest practicable moment the character of said nuisance and the probable cost of removing it; upon which report the Board shall take action and instruct the High Constable in regard to the same.

2 When the cost of removing any nuisance (privy-well excepted) shall exceed the sum of five dollars, the Secretary shall invite proposals, and the bids shall be opened in the presence of the Board and awarded to the to the lowest bidder.

3 The contractor shall strictly adhere to the stipulations and terms of the contract. No extra allowances will be granted upon bills for work done, or materials furnished, unless specially ordered by the Board.

4 The contractor shall not proceed in executing his contract if he shall find that the owners have in the meantime commenced operations, or partly abated the nuisance. He shall notify the Secretary of the fact, and await further orders.

5 The contractor shall strictly conform to the lines and levels furnished by the Surveyor appointed by the Board, for grading, paving and laying drain pipe.

6 All bills submitted to the Board for removing nuisances, not exceeding five dollars, shall be itemized and a charge made for each separate item. A charge shall be made for every incidental expense incurred. The Surveyor shall furnish the Board with bills as per measurements for all contracts wherein he is required to give the lines and levels, and make out bills divided proportionately against the properties chargeable with the cost of abating said nuisance.

7 In all cases, unless otherwise ordered, where nuisances are directed to be removed forthwith, if the same are not removed within twenty-four hours, the High Constable is hereby directed to have the same done at the expense of the owner, etc.

8 In all cases of nuisances to be removed by the owners of property, who have been notified to that effect by this Board, it shall be understood, that should he or they commence the removal within the time prescribed in the notice, the Board will not interfere, providing the work is prosecuted without delay.

MISCELLANEOUS.

1 No communications shall be received by the Board from its officers or servants, or from any other person whatever, unless the same be in writing and directed to the Board, or through the President or Secretary thereof officially.

2 When any nuisance is referred to a committee, with power to act thereon, the said committee shall report in writing what action they have taken in relation thereto.

3 Police officers, constables, and watchmen are enjoined, and citizens are respectfully requested to give information to the Board of Health of any violation of the health laws, or of the rules and regulations of the Board, so that the sanitary measures adopted by the latter to ensure the cleanliness and health of the borough may be fully carried out, and all offenders promptly punished.

RULES OF ORDER.

The order of business shall be as follows:

1 A quorum being present, the President shall take the chair and call the Board to order.

2 The minutes of the last meeting shall be read, and, if necessary, corrected and adopted.

3 Communications may be presented and disposed of.

4 Reports of Committees may be made and considered.

5 Resolutions may be offered and discussed.

The Board shall be subject to the customs and usages governing parliamentary bodies.

No amendments or change shall be made in these Rules except a notice thereof in writing shall have been given at a previous meeting.

TREMONT MEDICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

—Rev. M. L. Ganoe, of Altoona, will deliver his famous lecture, "A Boy in the War," in the church at Petersburg Friday evening, May 18th.

—The popular Irvin House, of Lock Haven, has changed hands, Mr. S. Woods Caldwell retiring and L. Esterline, of DuBois becoming the proprietor.

—A number of Centre Hallites picniced at Hunter's Park on Thursday. The Reporter says the young people took lots of the "necessary" along to have a good time.

—The six-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pifer (colored) died early Thursday morning and was buried Friday afternoon at four o'clock. The cause of death was croup.

—Flower thieves were on the war path Wednesday night, carrying off some beautiful plants from the rectory of the Episcopal church. The plants belonged to N. S. Baily and family.

—In the roster of students at the Westchester Normal School, as published by the Local News, there appears but one name from Centre county, that of Harvey C. Eagan, of Blanchard.

—The Bellefonte High School commencement will be held in Garman's opera house on Wednesday evening, June 6th. Col. J. L. Spangler will deliver the annual address to the graduating class.

—Over seventeen hundred dollars have thus far been subscribed towards securing the right of way for the extension of the Bellefonte Central railroad from State College to Pine Grove Mills. It is now beginning to look as if the project would be a go.

—On the morning of May 8th, Miss Jennie Gates, a maiden lady aged about 60 years, was found dead in bed at her home in Gatesburg, this county. She had retired the previous evening apparently as well as ever. Her funeral occurred on Thursday.

—Miss Lizzie, the 13-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones, died Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, of pleurisy. Miss Lizzie was a bright child and will be greatly missed in the now desolate home. The afflicted family have our heartfelt sympathy.

—A certain busybody is circulating a report around that the publication of the DAILY NEWS is to be discontinued shortly. The report is a canard, as the publishers have not the least idea of doing anything of the kind. The NEWS has now a larger circulation than ever and is gaining subscribers and patronage every day.

—John H. Sunday, a native of this county, died at Berrien Springs, Michigan, on Sunday, April 25th. He was a brother of Emanuel Sunday of near Pine Grove Mills and leaves a widow with ten children to mourn his demise. Deceased was born in this county in 1845 and went to Michigan in '68 where he lived until the time of his death.

—Assistant passenger agent Case, of the Beech Creek railroad, resents the statement being circulated in the neighborhood papers that the passenger office of that road is to be transfered from Philipsburg to Jersey Shore. He emphatically states that no such move is even contemplated, as it would not be possible to handle their immense business from that end of the line.

—The report that letter boxes at railroad stations would have to go, and that the mailing of letters on trains would hereafter be prohibited, seems to have been a fake. Postmaster General Bissell says so, anyway, and gives as the reason that it is deemed to much of a convenience to the business world and as it is the object of the goverment to make the postoffice department as thoroughly convenient as possible, of course such an order would not be issued.

RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: Had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For 7 years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to leave on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was now a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could see a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are using this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 1104 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

LAID TO HER LAST REST.

Funeral of Mrs. Edward T. Tuten Friday Afternoon.

The last sad rites performed, the last tribute of respect was paid and the last fond farewell taken of all that remained mortal of the late Mrs. Edward T. Tuten on Friday afternoon, ere the body was consigned to the silent tomb.

The services were held at the house at two o'clock and a large number of friends were congregated there in honor of one whom all loved so well and mourned so sincerely. The services were conducted by Rev. William Laurie, D. D., of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. J. A. Woodcock and Rev. Crittenden. A choir composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Meyer, Miss Kate Lundy and Mr. J. Malcolm Laurie rendered very sweet and appropriate music, their selections being "Come Unto Me," My Heavenly Home," and "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping." Rev. Laurie's discourse was based on the text found in the 27th Psalm, 13th and 14th verses:

"I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living. Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he shall strenghten thine heart: wait, I say, on the Lord."

The sermon was a most appropriate and fitting one. Rev. Laurie spoke high words of commendation of the departed one and words of cheer and consolation for those left to mourn.

During the services the remains reposed in an elegant black cloth casket on which was a plate bearing the name of the deceased. At the head of the casket stood a floral cross of white pinks, lillies of the valley and forget-me-nots. On the casket reposed a large boquet of tea roses, a tribute from the W. C. T. U., of which organization Mrs. Tuten was a most faithful member. The roses were tied with the white ribbon, the badge of the organization. Additional floral offerings were profuse and appropriate, as each one of her many friends who knew her passion for flowers, contributed their special mark of respect.

From the house the remains were conveyed to the Union cemetery where they were interred in a vault beside her son.

The pall bearers were Messrs. John P. Harris, John G. Love, Hammon Sechler, W. L. Malin, F. Potts Green, Geo. L. Potter, John Ardell and John C. Miller. Gen. D. H. Hastings had charge of the uneral and was most kind and considerate in his attention to all details.

And thus ended the last earthly duty that could be performed for the loved one. Family and friends mourn her as one who was dear to all; tears of the deepest sorrow bedew her grave and, though she is sleeping her last sleep, has lain down to her last rest, she is only entered into that haven of eternal life and rest forever. She sleeps the sleep of the just and one who can have the consciousness of a life well lived, and when the grass has grown green over her grave, when the sighing of the summer winds is the only requium to be heard, her name and her memory will not be forgotten, while kind friends strew bright flowers on her tomb and drop tears of sorrow as they breathe the silent prayer, "rest thou in peace."

The College Meet.

As the time for the great athletic meet approaches the interest in it intensifies. It undoubtedly will be the greatest and most exciting athletic event ever known in this part of the state. If we would have these contests take place on the College grounds next year it will be advisable to give the enterprise this year our heartiest encouragement. Those who fail to witness the exciting rivalry that exists between these several Penna. Colleges as it will be manifested in the various races on that day, will surely regret it provided they take any interest in athletic affairs. The day of the excitement is Saturday May 19, and the college men in general and the State college boys in particular are preparing to make it a gala day indeed. Get ready to pack the special trains.

Broke Her Limb.

On Saturday about six o'clock, when Mrs. Miller, wife of Jonathan E. Miller, of Reynolds avenue, went to go into the cellar she in some way made a misstep and fell to the bottom of the stairs, sustaining a compound fracture of her right limb just above the ankle. The family physician was at once summoned and the injured member given the necessary surgical attendance. Mrs. Miller is quite a large lady and, being aged about fifty years, her injury will prove more serious than for a younger person. It is to be hoped, however, that with the proper attendance she will recover her usual health and strength.

For Flower Thieves.

The practice of stealing flowers and shrubs from private yards is becoming an intolerable nuisance to residents in many parts of town. It is said that the people of Curtin street have employed an officer, who patrols the street after nightfall, in citizens' clothes, for the purpose of catching the thieves. "A hint to the wise is sufficient."

Death of Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. Clark, wife of Mr. John Clark, of Williamsburg, Blair county, died about 9 o'clock on Satuadry at the residence of her brother, Mr. D. M. Butts, on East Linn street, this place. Mrs. Clark was visiting here and on last Tuesday was stricken with paralysis and never regained consciousness. She was aged about 65 years. Mrs. Clark is the mother of our townsman, Mr. John L. Kurtz. She also has one son a minister, Rev. Thomas Kurtz, of Cleveland Ohio. In addition to these she leaves a husband, who is now suffering with a broken shoulder, and a son, Charles Clark, of Tyrone, to mourn their loss.

How Much We Can Spare and Yet Live.

The extent to which the human body can be mutilated without causing death is beyond what most people think. Of course, the removal of the largest limb is a familiar fact, but the successive removal of all the limbs would in most cases result in nothing worse than inconvenience. In the same way the internal organs may be extirpated. This is facilitated by their quality. One kidney may be removed and the other will make up for the loss by doing double work. One eye may be taken out and the sight remains practically unimpaired. Large portions of the brain may be removed with no injury to life or intellect. A portion of the intestines has been cut out and the ends sewed together and their normal action and function have not been interfered with.

They Got Married.

Several weeks ago we published an item concerning a Miss Yingst, of Dauphin county, who left for Idaho to marry a man she never saw, but whom she became acquainted with through a matrimonial advertisement. A letter was received by her friends and in it she says she met her friend on her arrival there, courted him one evening and married him the next day. She is happy and believes he loves her. She found matters better than expected in every way. They go to church and Sunday school regularly and all concerned seems very well satisfied. They start in life together with a family of five children, who are more than pleased with their new mamma.

Man's Inhumanity to Himself.

The most inhuman outrages, outrages which would disgrace the savage, man perpetrates upon his own system by swallowing drastic purgatives which convulse his stomach, agonize his intestines and weaken his system. Many people constantly do this under the impression that medicaments only which are violent in their action, and particularly cathartics, are of any avail. Irreparable injury to health is wrought under this mistaken idea. The laxative which most nearly approaches the benificent action of nature is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is painless but thorough, and invigorates the intestinal canal instead of weakening and irritating it. The liver and the stomach share in the benign discipline instituted by this comprehensive medicine, whose healthful influence is felt throughout the system. Malarious rheumatic, kidney and nervous complaints succumb to it.

National Guard Notes.

Orders will be issued from the headquarters of the National Guard in a few days fixing the time for the division encampment at Gettysburg from August 11th to 18th, inclusive. No enlistments will be allowed on or after 30 days previous to the encampment.

The rifle season practice will be from May 1st to October 31st. Instead of 45 men qualifying in each company every man will be required to qualify, in order that the company will get the pro-rata share of the appropriation for rifle practice.

Surely A Marriage Love.

Having no money, but an everlasting love for each other, Jeremiah Johnson and Emmeline Nice of Dawson, Fayette county, were married Monday afternoon by Alderman J. A. Mellenger, of McKeesport from Dawson with 60 cents and a determination to wed. They paid Alderman Mellenger 50 cents to get them a license. They slept Saturday and Sunday nights in a stable. The alderman married them for nothing, and they started to Dawson, 37 miles south.

Will Close for Want of Coal.

The Tyrone paper mill will be obliged to close about the 15th of this month for want of coal unless the miners strike is settled before that time. The company has coal enough to last them until that time, but will then be obliged to close The paper mill company had their own miners at work mining coal for their use, but the strikers ordered them to quit, and they quit.

Lightning Kills Sheep.

Last Sunday afternoon's thunder gust was most terrific in Brush valley. The lightning was vivid and the thunder almost deafening, while the rain came down in torrents. Lightning struck in a number of places. A lot of sheep belonging to Daniel Royer, gathered under a tree for shelter; lightning struck it, killing three sheep.

—On Friday a blast at Morris' limestone quarries threw a huge stone a distance of six hundred feet, where it crashed through a window of a house occupied by Mr. Housel. Of course, the window was a complete wreck and the stone just missed a young lady sitting inside. It is evident that such heavy blasts are a little too dangerous for comfort.

Is This Correct.

Second Baseman Reed, a former Tyrone player, last season with Bellefonte, and now coaching the State College club, was a recent Tyrone visitor. Reed says he expects to play in Bellefonte this summer, as that town has decided to have a good paid team.—Tyrone Herald.

It Never fails to Cure—MANNERS DOUBLE EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA.

HE WAS KILLED INSTANTLY.

What Insubordination in the Reformatory Resulted In.

A special from Huntingdon under date of Thursday, May 10th, says: To day was the first time that insubordination at the Pennsylvania Industrial reformatory was properly dealt with, according to general opinion expressed here. It involved the life of a prisoner, but the occasion called for his death or that of defenseless Mr. J. L. Bookhamer, keeper of the solitary cells.

Edward Wood and a fellow prisoner named Waldon, both sent up from Philadelphia, conspired to kill Mr. Bookhamer. Armed with iron bars, secreted in their pants legs, they made the attack in one of the cell houses at an opportune moment this afternoon. Wood struck the guard several terrific blows, and in warding off a perhaps fatal one, Mr. Bookhamer sustained a fracture to his right hand. To him it was a fight for life and his courage never left him. Just as Wood and Waldon were about to make another revengeful attack, Bookhamer came in possession of a 38 calibre revolver through the assistance of Guard Matthew AcAteer, and with this pointed directly at them held both at bay for a moment. Several times he asked them to surrender, but Wood's only reply was something like "You're afraid to shoot you —— —— ——," and then another attack was attempted. But it was brought to a sudden ending. Bookhamer fired and Wood fell to the floor and expired in a moment. The bullet entered the left side of his body under the arm and lodged near the heart. Waldon fled to another part of the institution.

Bookhamer's act is commended, as it was necessary. He was encountering desperate men and was compelled to employ desperate measures.

Coroner Harmon summoned a jury and viewed the body and heard considerable testimony. At the conclusion of the hearing the jury rendered a verdict exonerating Mr. Bookhamer, on the ground that he acted in self defense. There is considerable uneasiness among the prisoners in ward C to night.

Local Department.

—There is another barber in town. It arrived Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace.

—The dialogue parts in the opera are said to be worth the price of admission alone. They are indeed funny.

—Mr. D. E. Holter, of Howard, who has been confined to his bed for the past few weeks with rheumatism, is at present very low.

—And now the women are taking a hand in trying to break the great coal miner's strike. And it looks as if they might be successful.

—Mr. John B. Leathers, the proprietor of the Mountain Eagle handle factory, was stricken with paralysis on Tuesday morning and has been unconscious ever since.

—The Bellefonte Band and Meyer's Orchestra are practicing almost every night now, getting their whistles tuned for the great concert on May 30th. Don't forget them.

—The people of Dunstown, Clinton county, will celebrate their centennial anniversary on Wednesday, June 13th. Elaborate preparations are in progress to make the day a memorable one.

—Several suits against the South Fork fishing club, of Pittsburg, growing out of the Johnstown flood, and involving $210,000 have been remanded to Judge Metzgar for trial upon a change of venue.

—Superintendent Gephart says the Central Railroad company has not confiscated any coal; that they have enough on hands to last them one month, and when that is all they know where to get more.

—Workmen began this morning to tear out the old wooden shelving in the vault of the register and recorder's office preparatory to putting in the new steel furniture that has been received. It will take probably two weeks to complete the job.

—An order was posted on Thursday afternoon in the Altoona shops which makes the working time of all shops on the Pennsylvania system three days of eight hours each week until further notice. The reason given for this order is the absolute cessation of business on the road.

—The town man thinks all a farmer does is to sit out in the shade, and watch things grow. A country man thinks all we do in town is to sit behind a counter and rake in money. This is the reason every farmer wants to move to town, and every town man wants to be a farmer.

—On Sunday E. F. Garman, Chas. F. Richards, W. Fred Jackson, Chas. H. Cruse, James Harris and E. B. Rankin, members of the Bellefonte Wheelmen Club, took a run to State College and enjoyed a dinner at the new University Inn. They returned at four o'clock in the afternoon and report having had a good time all around.

—Engineers are hard at work laying out the route up Lamb street for a siding from the Central Railroad to the gas works, and men will be put to work on the building of the same within a few days, and it is more than likely that in about three weeks the engine will be puffing coal right up towards the heart of the town. That is, if there is any coal to puff up.

—W. W. Austin, a farmer and dairyman living near Tyrone, says the Herald, recently had seventeen cows poisoned, eleven of which number died inside of two hours and the other six going dry. The villain who prepetrated this dastardly act deserves no better fate than a good dose of western law, and it is a lucky thing for him he has not yet been discovered.

—On Sunday the police made the first arrest, in compliance with recent orders, for drunkenness and using profane language on the streets. Harry Childs was the individual and, not being able to pay his fine and cost, is now a lodger in Fort Condo on the hill. This should be a warning to others as to what will follow if they disregard the common law forbidding drunkenness and the use of profane language.

—When the miners in the Snow Shoe region went on a strke the operators, especially the Kelley brothers, went into the mines themselves and dug enough coal to ship a car load or two a day to regular customers. On Saturday the miners gave them notice that they must quit work also, and stay out of the mine, or there would be trouble. The Kelleys thought it wise to heed the warning, and consequently they have desisted and hereafter even that limited supply will be cut off until the strike is settled.

—Large posters in various colors now ornament the various bill boards and many of the store windows around town announcing the approaching concert of the Bellefonte Band and Meyer's Orchestra on Wednesday, May 30th. The announcements are very flattering but they do not more than half tell the story of the musical treat in store for those who will attend. Go, everybody, and crowd the house and encourage the band boys, They are already a good musical organization and deserve liberal patronage.

DEATH OF DR. J. W. RHONE.

Expires Suddenly at 2 O'clock Tuesday Afternoon from Heart Failure.

Bellefonters were considerably shocked on Tuesday with the announcement that Dr. J. W. Rhone was dead, he having expired suddenly just a few minutes before 2 o'clock with heart failure. The doctor had not been in good health ever since he had an attack of the grip some four years ago, but during the last few days he had been feeling fairly well. This morning he worked in his office about a half hour and said he felt much better for doing so. Afterwards Dr. Harris came in and the two gentlemen chatted pleasantly for almost two hours. Mr. Rhone ate his dinner and was sitting quietly when he suddenly expired without a minute's warning. By the time the doctor arrived all was over.

Mr. Rhone was born in Pennsvalley near where his brother Leonard Rhone, now resides. Early in life he studied dentistry and located in Centre Hall, From there he moved to Boalsburg, and in 1874 came to Bellefonte, and here he has lived ever since, building up for himself a very lucrative practice in his profession. He married Miss Caroline E. Keller, a sister of Col. D. S. Keller, and she with two children, Charles and Ella, are left to mourn the loss of a most kind husband and indulgent father. Deceased was aged about 61 years. For many years past he was an influential and leading member of the Lutheran church. In addition to his immediate family he is survived by his aged mother, now about 85 years old, one brother and two sisters.

Death of John Morgan.

Mr. John Morgan, whose illness with paralysis was announced in Monday's DAILY NEWS, died Tuesday at 12 o'clock. Mr. Morgan never regained consciousness from the time he was stricken on Friday night, and evidently suffered very little if any pain. Like the burning of a candle he grew weaker and weaker until the last spark of life was extinguished and his spirit passed over the silent river of death.

Mr. Morgan came to Bellefonte now almost forty years ago, and since that time has been one of its most respected citizens. He has always lived an upright, conscientious christian life, thus winning the admiration and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. Always industrious he succeeded in accumulating quite a little property and of late years has lived at ease in one of his houses on East Howard street.

Deceased was aged about 65 years. His wife, Mrs. Morgan, preceded him to the grave by not quite six months, she having died November 25th, 1893. There is left to mourn their loss but two children, Mary, wife of R. L. Erhard, of St. Mary's, and Catherine, wife of B. H. Shaeffer, of this place. Both his children were with him during his last illness.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Episcopal church.

Was Buried To-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaughensey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Orin Miller and son Harry and Miss Maggie Shaughensey went to Lock Haven Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mr. Michael Shaughensey, a young man who was killed on the P. & E. railroad near Linden on Saturday. Shaughensey lived with his widowed mother in Lock Haven and had gone to Williamsport to witness the ball game between the Lock Haven team and the Demorests. After the game he with some companions attempted to jump a freight train to come home. His companions all succeeded in getting on all right but young Shaughensey missed his footing and fell under the train. His left leg was cut in two and his right one almost ground to a pulp. He was found about ten minutes afterwards and taken to the Williamsport Hospital where he died inside of two hours.

David Wise Dies This Morning.

On Thursday, April 26th, David Wise, aged about 66 years, one of the most esteemed and respected citizens of Walker township, was thrown from a horse he was riding, by the animal stumbling, and sustained a fracture of three ribs besides being injured internally. He was taken home and Dr. Fisher summoned who did all for the injured man possible, but without avail and he died early on Tuesday morning. Mr. Wise leaves an aged wife and several children to mourn their loss.

In the Toils Again.

Thomas Meyers, one of the young men from Philipsburg who was convicted at the recent term of court for larceny and on whom sentence was suspended, has been at his old tricks again and last week was arrested and brought to Bellefonte where he is now confined in jail. He will be sentenced to the penitentiary at the June argument court. So far the other young men have carried themselves pretty straight.

—Robert Custer and Fred Loraine started Friday morning on their wheels to ride to Bellefonte. Coasting down the mountain to Fowler's they came to a sharp curve and Custer's wheel went over the bank, giving him such a fall that his right arm was broken in two places. A farmer brought him home, where his arm was set and he is getting along all right. —Philipsburg Ledger.

—The Ladies Foreign Missionary society of the Presbytery of Huntingdon will meet in the Presbyterian church in Bedford on the 7th and 8th days of June. A delegation of about 100 ladies is expected to be present from the different churches of the Presbytery. A popular meeting will be held in the evening, to be addressed by a returned missionary or some prominent missionary worker.

In Memory of Mrs. Mary Riden.

Mrs. Mary Riden, wife of Jerman Riden, died at their home in Bellefonte on April 19, 1894. Deceased was ill a long time, being confined to her bed for a period of six months, until death came to her relief at the time above stated. A husband and four children are left to mourn their loss. The children are Laura, married to Mr. John Clapper, of Bellefonte; and Misses Ella, Ida and Grant Riden, all at home. There is also one grandchild. Four children preceeded their mother to the grave.

Mrs. Riden was a daughter of Jacob and Eliza Housel, of Union county. In addition to her family she is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Sarah Lauver, Pittsburg; Mrs. Rachael Allbright, Axe Mann; Margaret Baney, Lock Haven; Rebecka Heavland, Cambria county; Matilda Laird, Jefferson county, and Benjamin and George Housel, of Bellefonte. Mrs. Riden was born March 1, 1837, and was therefore aged 57 years, 1 month and 18 days. She was a member of the Lutheran church for thirty-six years, and a devout christian lady.

The funeral took place on the Sunday following her death, from the Lutheran church, Rev. Hoshour officiating. A large number of relatives and friends were in attendance. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Lowery, Harry Yeager, Rastus Robb, Charles Eckenroth, Ed. Sunday and William Wooden.

Dearest mother, thou hast left us
And thy loss we deeply feel,
But the God who hath bereft us
He can all our sorrows heal.
Dearest mother, how we miss you,
For the voice we loved is still;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.

A Runoff Resulted Seriously

Monday morning about 9 o'clock while H. A. McKee and his driver, Mr. Thomas (colored) were going across the red bridge from Gerberich's mill to the new depot they met a two horse team driven by Mr. Port. The latter became frightened and attempted to run off and, in trying to stop them, a collision occurred. McKee's wagon was totally wrecked, the horse was thrown down, as was also the team of Mr. Port. The three men were thrown out and Mr. McKee was the only one who escaped serious injury. The one horse fell on Thomas injuring him pretty badly on the hip and side. The wagon run over Mr. Port badly cutting his face and breaking three ribs. He is injured otherwise more or less, though it is not believed fatally.

Patronize the Meet.

Only a few days before the great athletic meet at the college. Don't defer making your arrangements for that occasion. We must partronize the college boys if we want their patronage at our enterprises, which we emphatically do want. When our community has the trade it enjoys in a business way from the college, it is only fair that we should help them out when they need financial aid and, especially so, when we know their expenses next Saturday will be so heavy. There has been complaint already that Bellefonte does not encourage the college enterprises as she should. Let us turn out a throng next Saturday and show the boys we are "right with them." The special train will leave for the college at 12.30

Looking for a Site.

The Atwood Silk Manufacturing company, of Connecticut, are looking for a site somewhere in Central Pennsylvania for a new location, they desiring to move their mill from Connecticut. They want building and grounds free until they are in a position to purchase the same. They desire a building 350 feet long by 50 feet wide, with a wing jutting from the rear. They employ between 200 and 300 hands.

Now, here is a chance for the Bellefonte Board of Trade to get in its work. A silk mill would be a desirable industry for Bellefonte and would be well worth trying to get.

An Open Memorial Meeting.

Encampment, No. 59, Union Veteran Legion, will hold an open Memorial meeting in the post room, Harris' Block, on Friday evening, May 25th, at eight o'clock, in honor of Comrades who have died during the past year. Prof. John Hamilton, of State College, a member of the organization, will deliver the memorial address. Everybody is invited to be present.

JOHN I. CURTIN,
Adjutant.

—We have thus far omitted to mention the fact that since Postmaster Fortney has taken charge of the Bellefonte postoffice he has given it such a thorough cleaning out as it has not had for months. We don't know whether it was his desire to get rid of even Republican atmosphere or not, or whether it was simply an ambition to do his spring house cleaning in due season. At all events, it is a great improvement.

Flowers for Decoration Day.

Every young lady and gentleman and girl and boy—especially the children—are requested to bring flowers for Memorial day to Gregg Post room, as usual, either the evening before or early on the morning of the 30th, and oblige,

AT THE STATE COLLEGE.

The Home Team Wins from Dickinson Satutday.

STATE COLLEGE, May 12.

The game of ball played here this afternoon between the home team and the Dickinsons, of Carlisle, was a closely contested game and intensely interesting. Notwithstanding the one-sided score, the Dickinson men played well and were only beaten because of the excellent playing of State's team. The game was called at 1.10 o'clock so that the visiting team could reach Bellefonte in time to catch the evening train home. The following score tells Dickinson's tale of woe:

The greater number of the rooms in the new University Inn have been engaged by summer boarders. A coach will be kept so that coaching parties may have the pleasure of enjoying the beautiful scenery in the country about State College.

The Sophomore class have adopted a class cane and nearly all the members have received theirs. It is a really beautiful cane with the regulation college crook, and sterling silver trimmings.

A Good Iden.

MR. EDITOR:—Allow me a little space in your columns for the benefit of the poorer class in each township in the county. I suggested, over a year ago, to the supervisor and tax collector of my township, that the collectors hand to the supervisor a list of the names of the few taxpayers in the township who were out of work, as well as money, and the supervisor give such persons work on the road and pay the money to the collector, thus heling the poor man to pay his taxes in time to have the benefit of the five per cent. off. Since each township receives considerable money to be spent on the roads, such poor persons may as well be employed for that end. Consider this matter.

Z. S. WELCH.

—On Saturday Joseph Rightnour went to the dentist to have an aching tooth extracted. Being a little nervous he asked to be given something to deaden the pain and the dentist administered a dose of cocaine. The tooth was extracted and Joe seemed all right for a littie while, and then a dizziness came over him and he became for all the world like a man intensely drunk. About six o'clock Saturnay evening he lay in a stupor and it was feared might die. The physician summoned pronounced it a case of cocaine poisoning. By a prompt use of the proper medicines relief came and at this writing Mr. Rightnour is getting along all right.

Reduced Fare—Special Train.

The Central Railroad of Pennsylvania on account of the Ninth Annual Contest of the Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association of Pennsylvania to be held at State College, Saturday May 19th, will sell excursion tickets from all local points to Bellefonte and return at rate of one way fare for the round trip.

A special train will be run to Mill Hall and Williamsport from Bellefonte, leaving at about 7.30 p. m. of that day. By this arrangement there will be no delay enroute and those attending the games can do so at a nominal expense.

Stricken With Paralysis.

On Friday evening Mr. John Morgan, of Howard street, in company with a friend went fishing for trout along Spring creek. They returned in due season and Mr. Morgan expenced no ill effects of his trip, but some time in the earlier part of Friday night he was stricken with paralysis and rendered entirely helpless. His entire body is paralyzed and he has been uncounscious ever since. Mr. Morgan being about 65 years old his recovery is doubtful.

—A number of the property owners in Bellefonte have conceived the idea of sodding the street in front of their premises. This idea did not originate because it is believed the town is dead; neither are the streets to be used for pasture fields, but the whole thing is to be done with an eye for the beautiful. The only thing to make the beauty of it perfect is uniformity. If one man on a street does the sodding every other property owner should do likewise, or the effect will be marred by the contrast.

—The country just now is magnificently beautiful. The young leaves are about half developed, while the grass and grain fields never looked fresher. The color of the grass is of a peculiarly bright green, and the dandelions, now in their glory, lend a golden brilliancy to the whole that is peculiarly cheering. The fragrant lilacs also contribute their full share to the beautiful picture.

Mr. J. J. Lejeal, the popular piano tuner and repairer of Erie, Pa., is now in Bellefonte and stopping at the Bush House. Mr. Lejeal is a man of many years experience and when he tunes your piano he does it right. He will be in Bellefonte two weeks. See ad. elsewhere.

Mr. Henry Hall, the versatile and well-known staff correspondent of the Pittsburg Times, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday in the interest of his paper. Mr. Hall spent some time under the wing of Gen. D. H. Hastings and it is safe to conclude that he has every thing down to the smallest detail regarding the political aspect.

Mr. and Mrs. Coxey, and their daughter Marguerite, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Coxey, Mr. Johnson, on Bishop street. Mrs. Coxey and her daughter came down on the train and Mr. Coxey, accompanied by a friend, Mr. Nelson, made the trip on their wheels from Altoona. Mr. Nelson will return home today.

Mr. David Foreman, who has filled the office of deputy prothonotary for the past seven years, and whose time expired on Saturday, today shook the dust of Bellefonte from his feet and departed for his home in Centre Hall. Dave intends taking it easy this summer and next fall, if there is anything "good" comes his way he will take it up.

Passed Through Williamsport.

Mrs. Cleveland, accompanied by the babies, Ruth and Esther, and their nurses, and escorted by Private Secretary Thurber, passed through Williamsport Monday morning for Buffalo. Mrs. Cleveland goes to visit her mother, Mrs. Perrine, for a few days before proceeding to Gray Gables for the summer. The party occupied the private car of President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad.

To My Friends.

As you are well aware that I would not recommend that which I did not believe to be good, I desire to say to all who need a good reliable medicine, that I believe one bottle of Sulphur Bitters will do you more good than any other remedy I ever saw.—Rev. Cephas Soule.

A GRAND ARMY INDEED.

Over 50,000 Veterans to Parade at Pittsburg September 11th Next.

Estimating with the Post already heard from as a basis, it is considered certain that over 50,000 veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic will parade at Pittsburg September 11th next, during the 28th National Encampment. Pennsylvania will have fully 15,000 in line, Ohio, 6,000 to 7,000, New York, 2,000 to 2,500, and other States will be represented in proportion. Pittsburg and Allegheny County will alone have between 4,000 and 5,000. Free quarters have already been assigned for over 11,000 comrades, most of whom are coming from far distant points, and yet the encampment is four months away. There will be 2,000 mounted men in the procession, which is expected to consume over eight hours in passing a given point. The decorations and illuminations will be on a scale of magnificence never before known in Western Pennsylvania.

Letters received indicate that there will be a remarkable reunion of veterans who have gone out into the world from Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland, affording an opportunity for the meeting of friends who have been separated anywhere from a decade to a generation past.

Enough Coal to Last Ten Days.

The Water Committee of the Borough Council was fortunate in securing about forty tons of coal from Mr. Thomas A. Shoemaker, which had been stored in the old pump house for several years. This amount will feed the boilers at the water works about ten days, and when that is all, unless the strike is settled, the big pump may have to stop and Bellefonters depend entirely on the old water wheel for their supply of water. If things come to such a pass it will necessitate considerable economy on the part of everybody in Bellefonte.

—Sunday was a lovely day and the various churches were all well attended.

—It looks as if their might be rain. A good shower or two would come in just right about this time.

—Ladies Coats reduced from $6.00 to $3,00 at Mrs. J. A. Aikens. A.5-1m.
